

WEATHER FORECAST.
Increasing cloudiness and partly warmer tonight; Tuesday snow.

FURY

Unabated by Either Side in Great Battle of Verdun

NOW ENTERING ITS SECOND WEEK

Heavy Reinforcements For General Joffre

MAY TURN BATTLE'S TIDE

German Accounts Fail To Agree With French Version Of The Fighting, Berlin Announcing Further Advances, While The French Claim To Have At Least Checked Drive.

The great battle of Verdun now entering its second week, is continuing with unabated fury, with the German armies driving hard at the French defenses along a lengthening line which now runs far beyond the Salient in which lies the fortress.

Paris asserts that with the pouring in of heavy reinforcements for General Joffre's armies, the German advance has been checked, but Berlin claims a continuation of the forward march on the French stronghold.

Along the Meuse, to the north of Verdun, the Germans have been unable to make as rapid progress as in the initial stages of the battle, and even on the Woerff front where the French at first fell back they now appear to be offering effective resistance. Pressure here is particularly menacing to the fortress, as the crushing in of this eastern line of the Verdun salient for any great distance would spell disaster for the stronghold.

The French defensive operations at places are taking on the nature of a counter-offensive, as in the attacks on Fort Douaumont, four miles northeast of Verdun. This development has been forecast in despatches which told of the expectation in Paris that the French, when they had fallen back to positions they believed they could hold indefinitely, would drive back over the ground that had been yielded in the face of the terrific German artillery and infantry attacks.

According to a statement by Aristide Briand, the French premier, this happened after the fourth day of the battle. The French brought up strong reinforcements at an unexpected moment, and the infantry, sweeping down upon the Germans, who already were suffering heavily from the effects of the French artillery fire, stopped them short and even drove them back. The premier declared the advantage, the beginning of their counter-attacks marking the turning point of the battle, which is now in its second phase.

The German accounts fail to agree with this French version of the fighting, Berlin having announced further advances for the Crown Prince's troops, including the taking of Haudumont, east of Fort Douaumont, and the village of Champneuville, on the German right flank, while French attacks on Fort Douaumont were repulsed. The French themselves do not claim the recapture of this outlying defense of the main fortress, but declared that the Germans who had gained a foothold to the east and west of the position were being hard pressed, maintaining themselves with difficulty.

The total of lives lost in sinking of (Continued on Page 9, Col. 4.)

REPEAL

Of Free Sugar Clause of Underwood Tariff
Bill

RECOMMENDED BY COMMITTEE

To Become Operative By May First Next

AN INCREASE OF REVENUE

Is Expected, For As Law Now Stands Sugar Would Have Been Admitted Free Thereby Causing A Loss Of $40,000,000—What Congress Is Doing In Committees.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 28.—A favorable report on the administration's bill to repeal the free sugar clause of the tariff law which would become operative May 1, was authorized today by unanimous vote of the house ways and means committee. The bill will be brought up Thursday.

The proposed legislation already has been approved as a party measure by the house Democrats in caucus and its passage in both houses virtually is assured.

The measure is expected to open up the whole question of revenue legislation. As the law now stands sugar would go on the free list, May 1, and it is estimated that the government would lose $40,000,000 annual revenue thereby.

The majority report reiterates that the repeal of the clause is necessary by conditions due to the war and estimates the proposed saving in revenue at $44,000,000 annually. The Republican members while voting for the repeal probably will state their views in a minority report.

Plans of the administration and of congress for a comprehensive scheme for prevention and control of floods in the future were up for discussion at a conference today between President Wilson and Chairman Humphries of the House Special Flood control committee which recently inspected the flooded districts of the Mississippi valley.

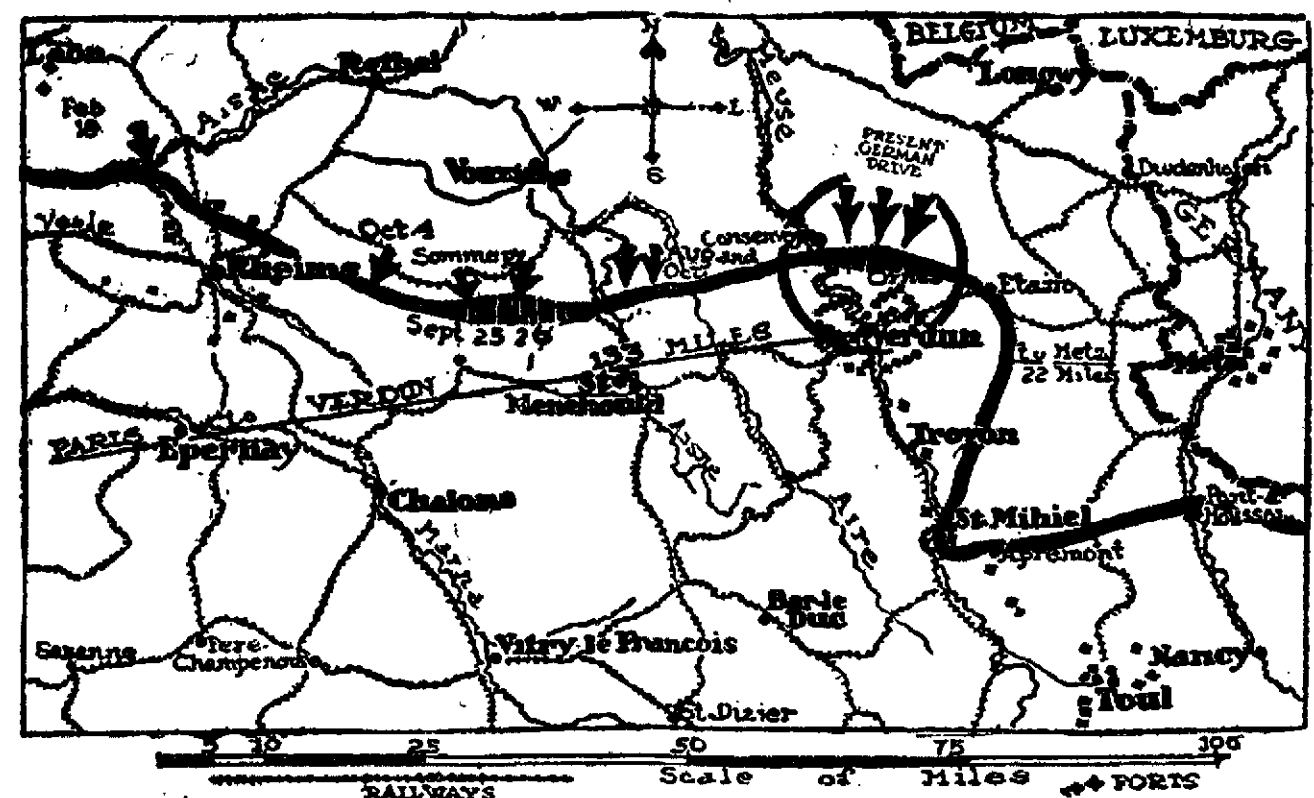

The plans for controlling floods are being worked out by a committee of cabinet members in co-operation with representatives and senators and will be the subject of a hearing this week before the special house committee.

Debate on the Shields bill to provide for waterpower on navigable streams to private interests, was resumed in the senate today, with opponents of the measure, prepared to renew with more vigor than ever their fight against it.

Conservation champions hope to amend the bill so as to meet the wishes of their forces. To that end Senator Hastings of Wisconsin, was ready to offer a substitute for the Shields bill which he claims will safeguard the public interest and prevent monopoly of waterpower facilities.

The cry of "lobby" in connection with the Shields bill already has been raised by Senator Norris, of Nebraska, who charges it is composed of representatives of the "water-power trust," which has its headquarters in Wall street.

VERDUN IN HANDS OF GERMANS WOULD REMOVE SERIOUS THREAT

The capture of Verdun, while it would bring the Germans no nearer Paris, would immensely strengthen their own position from the defensive point. Verdun is of more importance to the French as a threat to the German Argonne position on one side and the St. Mihiel salient on the other, and as a starting point for a future attack on Metz, than it is a defense point.

Hospital Ship Reported Sunk With Many Victims; 181 Lives Lost When Liner Struck German Mine Sunday

London, Feb. 28.—The sinking of the hospital ship Marechiaro near San Giovanni di Medua, Albania, is reported in a dispatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph company. The vessel is said to have struck an Austrian mine. It is reported there were numerous victims.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Dover, Feb. 28.—A continuous search by boats in the vicinity of the sunken steamer Marechiaro and inquiries along the coast had failed up to mid-afternoon today to raise the number of known survivors of the disaster—260, of which 64 are passengers.

260 KNOWN SAVED

Of These 64 Are Passengers On Board the Marechiaro.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Feb. 28.—Of the total complement of 441 passengers and crew on the Peninsular and Oriental line steamer Marechiaro, which struck a mine and sank within half an hour two miles off Dover, yesterday, only 260 are known to have been saved. Of the total 119 passengers, 64 names of persons saved have been received at the steamship company's offices. It was stated there that it is hoped more names of persons saved will still be received.

The bodies of three more Lascars of the crew of the Marechiaro have been washed ashore, making the total of bodies recovered 41. Many relatives are arriving at Dover for the purpose of endeavoring to identify bodies.

Among those rescued yesterday was a baby, warmly clad, which was found floating on its back. The child was found by a patrol boat and was taken into the engine-room. After being warmed it smiled at its rescuers and seemed none the worse for the immersion.

The British press is almost unanimous in assuming that the Marechiaro and the other vessels sunk by mines during the week end were victims of a fresh sowing of German mines. There is much speculation as to how these mines could have been laid. The theory most frequently advanced is that a certain class of neutral shipping was employed.

The Pall Mall Gazette suggests such operations may drive England to still more stringent supervision of neutral shipping than has yet been exercising by the admiralty. While the Peninsular and Oriental officials still hope it will be found that others had been picked up by boats and landed along the Dover coast, it was feared the death list would be well over 150. Bodies continue to be washed ashore and 50 persons have thus far been accounted for.

The steamship company's statement regarding the number of people on board the Marechiaro, issued this afternoon, showed that of 119 passengers, 19 were children, while the ship's officers were given as including the commander, four navigating officers, 13 engineering officers, a surgeon and purser.

NEWARK U. C. T. WILL BID FOR STATE MEETING

The United Commercial Travelers' of Newark, Ohio, have appointed a boosters' committee to arrange for funds to defray expenses of taking the famous Buckeye band to the Grand Council meeting to be held at Columbus, Ohio, June 10th, 1916. This will assume quite an item of expense and we ask the support of every merchant, business man and manufacturer of this city to assist us in order that we can turn out in numbers that will be a credit to Newark and help put it on the map and also make a strong bid for the big United Commercial Travelers' state meeting for 1917. This would bring the largest crowd that Newark ever witnessed. Nearby towns have entertained them with grand success. Why can't Newark?

This committee will call on all merchants, business men and manufacturers very shortly and the success of their undertaking depends solely upon your support. Arrangements have been made whereby tickets will be sold for admission to a ball game to be held at their annual picnic at Buckeye Lake on July 15th, 1916. At this picnic an Overland touring car, model 83, fully equipped, will be given away.

- A. B. Crawford,
 - J. F. Cherry,
 - D. H. Alsapach,
 - George C. Vail,
 - George Koley,
 - E. P. Roberts,
- Committee.

ROAD BUILDERS IN CONVENTION AT PITTSBURGH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 28.—Delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada, arrived here today to attend the thirteenth annual convention of the American Road Builders' Association, which will open tonight at a mass meeting in Memorial Hall. Three thousand delegates including the mayors of fifty cities are expected to attend the convention.

At the meeting tonight former Congressman James Francis Burke will preside. The principal speakers will be Congressman Martin B. Madden, of Chicago, and Dorsey W. Shackelford, chairman of the Good Roads Commission in Congress and William Fflan of Pittsburgh. The regular business sessions will open.

SPLIT SALARY SCANDAL STILL STIRS CHICAGO

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Feb. 28.—The civil service commission will resume its investigation of the "split" salary scandal this afternoon, one of the chief witnesses to be called being Mayor William Hale Thompson. The mayor will appear in answer to a subpoena issued at the request of counsel for Mrs. Louise Osborne Rowe, accused by Mrs. Page Weller Eaton of collecting one-third of Mrs. Eaton's salary for the benefit of Mrs. Margaret Mivelaz, sister-in-law of the mayor. Mrs. Eaton charged that the division of her salary was made on the orders of Mrs. Thompson, wife of the mayor.

Another development of the affair was made known today with the statement of State's Attorney Macklay Hoyne, that he would make an investigation of the payroll graft charges. This will not be begun until after the civil service commission investigation has been finished.

A PROHIBITION AMENDMENT MAY BE POSTPONED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, O., Feb. 28.—Anti-liberal leaders who arrived here today in advance of the meeting tomorrow of the trustees of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, were divided on the question of submitting again this year a prohibition amendment. A majority appeared to favor postponing until 1917 re-submission of the question. They pointed out that their cause might be stronger in a season when no president or governor were to be elected. They expressed the hope also that by next year some means would have been found for relieving the financial stringency of Ohio cities. To propose abolition of saloons and the consequent loss of revenue at a time when cities keenly need more funds, might lead many voters to reject prohibition, they suggested.

Those who believed the prohibition question should be put up to the electors this year had as their principal argument that the presidential and gubernatorial elections will bring out a big rural vote which they assumed to be anti-liberal.

GREAT DISTRESS OF GREEK WOMEN MOVES DEPUTIES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Athens, Greece, Feb. 26, via Paris, Feb. 27.—(Delayed in Transmission)—Barefoot and ragged women in large numbers, many with babies in arms, proceeded from the quarters of the working classes yesterday to parliament, stopped in-going deputies and pleaded that the chamber relieve the distress caused by mobilization of the men and non-payment of allowances to their families. There was no riot. Several deputies addressed the women, promising relief.

Attempts are being made to discredit administration of former Premier Venizelos. The acceptance of the former premier of the candidacy for a seat in the chamber from Mitylene gives added significance to the discussions in parliament. The election of M. Venizelos is virtually assured and there is much discussion of a possible alteration of Greece's attitude.

Leaves of absence for soldiers, inaugurated last month are gradually bringing about demobilization. The Greek troops which were stationed in Macedonia and Thessaly are being withdrawn to Old Greece, facilitating the return of soldiers with needy families in time for the spring seeding.

ITALY PREPARED LONG IN ADVANCE FOR EVACUATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Rome, Feb. 26, Via Paris, Feb. 27.—(Delayed)—The evacuation of the port of Durazzo in Albania is said by the Italian press to have been in accordance with plans long prepared, as it had served its purpose as a base for rescuing the remainder of the Serbian army. Italian military efforts on that side of the Adriatic will, it is declared, be now directed to the safeguarding of Avlona, the port which lies about 80-miles south of Durazzo and which has a strategic value of the greatest importance.

COAL RATE CASE HEARING MARCH 8.
Columbus, Feb. 28.—March 8 is the date set today for hearing final argument in the Hocking Valley coal rate case by the Public Utilities Commission. This followed the filing by the Sunday Creek Coal company of its brief in support of a coal rate lower than the present 55-cent rate.

Germany Will Not Sink An Unarmed Ship

Note Presented Today to Secretary Lansing by Ambassador Von Bernstorff Assures the United States that There is no Intention of Revoking the Pledges Giving in the Lusitania Case Last September, Which Satisfied President Wilson

NO POSTPONEMENT OF NEW SUBMARINE POLICY

Germany Contends That A Submarine Commander Cannot Be Expected To Warn An Enemy Merchantman Which Has The Right To Fire Upon And Destroy The Submarine—Would Welcome Agreement Of Belligerents To Disarm Vessels Used In Trade—President Will Discuss New Note With Cabinet Before Making Definite Decision.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Feb. 28.—In a note presented to Secretary Lansing today Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, Germany assured the United States that it has no intention of revoking pledges given in the Lusitania case.

The note says Germany can conceive of no reason for changing or postponing the new instructions to her submarine commanders to treat as warships enemy merchantships armed "defensively," and that special precautions have been taken to prevent ships that are not armed from being attacked.

The note at the outset reiterates the previous pledges, which were given September 1, and October 5, last year, for the safety of unresisting liners and then goes on to say the German government does not believe those assurances have been modified by the new memorandum.

During the negotiations over the Lusitania, it says, no mention was made of armed merchantmen, and the United States in one of its notes on the Lusitania mentioned armed merchantmen. Attention is called to the assurances previously given in which it is stated that liners will not be sunk without warning, provided they do not offer resistance. Attention also is called to the statement of the American government in its notice to port authorities that the presence of armament on board a merchant vessel creates the presumption that the vessel is armed for offense.

It is stated that a submarine commander cannot be expected to warn an enemy merchantman which has a right to fire on the submarine which warns it, and the German government sets up the contention that equipment and intention to resist a warning given by a submarine does not come within the definition of defensive armament.

Germany contends that a similar viewpoint was taken by the United States, and that it secured assurances from the Italian government that its armed ships leaving American ports would not fire on submarines which warned them.

The note then sets forth that the German government did not issue its new instructions to submarine commanders until after it had come into possession of confidential instructions by the British government to the commanders of British merchantmen. It is denied that armed British merchant ships of any description are peaceful traders, and it is declared that the armament on board all of them is to be used especially for purpose of attack.

The charge is made that Austrian submarines have been attacked by armed British merchantmen, which the note declares are not conforming to the assurances given to the United States by the British government in a memorandum of August 25, 1914 by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador. The German government says it cannot see how the American government, in consideration of these facts, can regard armed merchantmen as peaceful trading ships.

The note makes it clear that the Berlin government believes its new instructions to submarine commanders are in accord with the viewpoint expressed by the United States in its memorandum proposing a modus vivendi to the entente allies, for the disarmament of merchant ships.

It declares that German submarine commanders have been so instructed that they will not destroy a merchant ship on a question of armament, unless it is known positively that such armament exists. The declaration that previous pledges will not be revoked, also is formally given.

The efforts of the United States to have the belligerents agree to a modus vivendi, which would cause all merchant ships to be disarmed, it is declared, are welcomed by Germany. There follows a declaration that the German government will no longer allow its submarines to be made objects of attacks in violation of the principles of international law, and, that, therefore the new instructions will not be postponed or modified.

Appended to the communication, which was signed by Count von Bernstorff was a list of about twenty incidents where it is charged German and Austrian submarines have been attacked by merchantmen armed ostensibly for defensive purposes. At no place in the communication is it suggested that American citizens be warned to remain off armed merchant ships and the question of what constitutes defensive armament is not brought up although it is admitted in various quarters that such a question probably will be raised.

Baron Zwiadineck, charge of the Austrian embassy called upon Secretary.

(Continued on Page 2, Col. 2.)

Boldness in Using Telephones In Florida and Cincinnati Was Stimson Shackelford's Undoing

The boldness of Stimson Shackelford in his movements after he must have known that he was wanted here in connection with the murder of his foster-grandmother, Jane Shackelford, and her half-brother, Elias Woodford, is the source of much wonder among the officers who have followed the case.

Investigation by the Jacksonville, Fla., police department revealed that he went into the main exchange of the telephone company when he called his father on the telephone a week ago tonight. The Jacksonville police, with this clue, succeeded in getting trace of him but before he was located there he had left the city for his trip back to Ohio.

His boldness was further indicated when he proceeded to use the telephone immediately upon his arrival in Cincinnati last Friday. In each case the telephone proved his undoing. Without the telephone call at Jacksonville the police there would have had little to work upon except his description and habits as telephoned from headquarters here. At Cincinnati, it is very probable that his presence in the city would not have been known had he not used the telephone. The lack of delay in furnishing the police both in Cincinnati and in Newark with the information which Shackelford gave over the 'phone enabled the officers to locate him before he had time to disappear again. Sheridan, who returned from Cincinnati Saturday night, regrets that Shackelford was killed before he had any chance to impart any information he might have had regarding the double murder. Police here were satisfied that if he was captured that he would be prevailed upon to tell what he knew of the crime.

Regarding The Advocate's story Saturday from Cincinnati, giving the details of the shooting, Chief Sheridan stated it was correct. He said the detectives called Shackelford name; admitted his identity, ped across the room; pulled a .38-caliber revolver; and began shooting. Officers made every effort to get the man alive, but after the desperate character of the attack with whom they were then took care of the man. Police here are convinced that Shackelford was the instigator of the two aged men.

WHO CAN SOLVE THE MYSTERY?

"The Strange Case of Mary Page," the great McClure mystery story, begins in today's Advocate. This story was written by Frederick Lewis in collaboration with John F. McIntyre, author of the Ashton Kirk detective stories. Did Mary Page kill James Pollock? As a mystery story it has no equal. Read the first episode in this edition.

Saved Her Life

The unqualified endorsement of Fruitola and Traxo in a recent letter from Mrs. S. Grindie, 5018 Mignonette St., Pittsburgh, Pa., will be of interest to other sufferers from stomach and intestinal troubles. Mrs. Grindie says:

"The doctors had given me up, saying the only hope left was an operation. I tried Fruitola and passed hundreds of gall-stones with the first two bottles. Am now feeling better than I have for years past. I will be glad to tell any sufferer how it has helped me, for I owe my life to it."

Fruitola possesses properties that act directly upon the intestinal parts, softening the congested waste and disintegrating the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, and expels the accumulation to the great relief of the patient. Traxo is a tonic-alterative that acts on the liver and kidneys, stimulates the flow of gastric juices, to aid digestion and removes bile from the general circulation. It serves to build up the weakened, run-down system.

For the convenience of the public, arrangements have been made to supply Fruitola and Traxo through representative druggists. In Newark they can be obtained at Evans' Drug Store, Warren Hotel Block.

BUY A BICYCLE

Our spring sales are moving the best bicycles, Racycles, Flying Merckles, Red Wings. Boys and Girls bicycles with New Departure Coasters.

Tires of Goodyear and other makes fully guaranteed brands.

Bicycle Repairing

We will treat you right. We bought before the advance. We save you money.

C. E. Wyeth
47 West Main St.

REPORTS THAT FRENCH THROW GERMANS BACK

CAUGHT BETWEEN TWO FIRES AND HARASSED WITH DEADLY SHRAPNEL

Invasion Are Attacked With Great Fury by Fresh Divisions of Allies' Army.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Paris, Feb. 22 (11:55 a. m., Delayed).—Impetuous counter attacks by French troops north of Verdun in which the Germans were thrown back from many positions conquered by them during the first four days of the battle, according to reports from the front are considered as inaugurating a second phase of the great action under conditions most favorable to the defenders. Premier Briand told representatives of the press how the tide was turned.

"Caught between two fires," said M. Briand, "covered with shrapnel from all sides, attacked by our fresh divisions surging upon the field of battle at an unexpected moment, the Germans saw their efforts stopped short. The struggle was a titanic one. Our heroic troops went into the melee frantically. Our light and heavy artillery made sanguinary furrows in the compact ranks of the Germans."

"Finally exhausted, their ranks decimated, the Germans recoiled under our furious counter-attacks. We have regained the advantage. Installed upon formidable positions our heroic soldiers remained masters of the field of battle."

German troops by a surprise attack have been successful in entering certain advanced French trenches near the Navarin farm, in the Champagne district.

In the region to the north of Verdun the bombardment has continued with intensity, particularly in the central sector, and on our right.

German forces yesterday evening made several attempts to capture the village of Douaumont. Their efforts were broken by the resistance of French troops, who withstood the most furious assaults.

The situation at the fort of Douaumont is without change. This fort is closely encircled.

In the Woëvre district the Germans yesterday evening and last night assumed an attitude of greater activity.

The railroad station at Eix, after having changed hands several times, finally remains in possession of the French.

All the efforts of the Germans against Hill No. 255, near Eix, were without result.

A German attack against the French positions at Manheulles resulted in complete failure. French artillery is replying with energy to the bombardment of the Germans along this entire front.

So far as the French official report of this afternoon shows, the French lines in the immediate vicinity of Verdun are holding firm. The German attack is developing along the front to the east and southeast.

At Fort Douaumont, where the fighting has been heaviest, the situation is unchanged. The fortress itself apparently is still held by the Germans. In the village of Douaumont, a few hundred yards from the fort there was a furious struggle last night. The war office announced that the German attempts to capture the village resulted in failure.

Southeast of Verdun, over the line bending south to St. Mihiel, the Germans are pressing the attack. The French statement reports a futile German attack against Manheulles, ten-miles southeast of Verdun, which may indicate an advance in that quarter although the precise location of the front in this section has not been known.

BOLDNESS

(Continued from Page 1.)

deaths. In Gregg's saloon, Eleventh and West Main streets, early Thursday evening, he attempted to buy a quart of whiskey on credit. When refused he said: "Well, I have an important mission and I'll get 'em both without the liquor."

A few hours later he was in Peret's saloon in Wilson street, purchased two quarts of liquor, and paid for it without comment, and had lots of money. In this place he seemed restless and uneasy. His call for the taxicab and the joyride about the city started from Eleventh and Wilson streets and continued until after midnight.

The police also learned where he bought ammonia and turpentine in a Front street grocery and followed his movements up to 8 o'clock Friday morning after the crime. His movements after 9 o'clock Saturday could not be followed.

The police knew of the telephone call from Jacksonville within a short time after Shackelford talked with his father last Monday night. Within two hours afterwards the Jacksonville police had the information and were working on the case.

Chief Sheridan this morning expressed his appreciation of the thorough and efficient manner in which his officers assisted in running down the dozens of clues furnished the department.

Shackelford's funeral. Young Shackelford's body arrived in Newark from Cincinnati early Sunday morning, and was taken to the Criss Bros. undertaking rooms in West Main street. The body was prepared for burial and later moved to the Shackelford home, 438 Grandville street.

Private funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home, the Rev. D. M. Guy officiating. Burial will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

From the time the news of Shackelford's death was reported here hundreds of "phone calls were received at Criss Bros." inquiring about the arrival of the body. Samuel Shackelford, Saturday, requested the Criss firm not to allow the general public to view the body, his request being complied with, the morbidly curious were turned away.

All flowers will be accepted.

JUDGE FULTON ILL AND COURT HAS ADJOURNED

JURORS EXCUSED UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE—COURT OF AP-PEALS HERE MARCH 7.

Damage Suit Filed on Account of Automobile Colliding With Buggy—Court News.

Owing to the indisposition of Judge Fulton, the petit jurors in common pleas court were excused on Monday morning until further notice.

Court of appeals will convene on March 7.

Judge Fulton's condition this afternoon was reported considerably improved and he is able to sit up in his bed. Mrs. Fulton denied the report that the judge had suffered a stroke of paralysis, saying that his illness resembled, in a way, an attack of lumbago.

To Lima Hospital.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Brown took Frank T. Laird to the hospital for the criminal insane at Lima today.

Taken to Penitentiary.

George Jackson and Ernest Brown, who were recently convicted of highway robbery, were taken to the penitentiary at Columbus Saturday afternoon by the sheriff and a deputy.

Probate Court.

Mary A. Weiss has been appointed administratrix of the estate of Geo. Weiss, late of Newton township. Bond $12,000.

Herbert D. Sigler has been appointed administrator of the estate of Ida J. Gourley, late of this city. Bond $12,000.

Elizabeth M. Graff has been appointed executrix under the will of George Graff, late of this city, the will having been probated today. No bond.

James R. Fitzgibbon has been appointed administrator of the estate of Henry S. Fulton, late of this city. Bond $5,000.

Damage Case.

Jos. H. Orr has filed a petition in common pleas court against Ora E. Lampton. The petition recites that Sarah Orr, wife of plaintiff, accompanied by her young daughter and child, were riding on a public highway between Newark and Jackson-town, and that the defendant going in the same direction driving an automobile carelessly ran into the rig driven by Mrs. Orr, throwing her out upon the ground, striking upon her head and shoulders, that she suffered a severe shock and that her collar bone was fractured and that her teeth were forced into her lips, and that her face was cut and that she suffered bruises, all of which confined her to her home for six weeks. Plaintiff owned the horse, buggy and harness, the horse being damaged in the sum to him of $100, the buggy $50, the harness $15, and that he paid the sum of $50 for medicine and doctor bills. The plaintiff alleges that defendant gave no notice of his approach. As a consequence of the accident plaintiff claims that he has been damaged in the sum of $2215.

Real Estate Transfers.

Winfield S. Shreve to Newman A. Weakley, lot in Gerard avenue; $100. Charles H. Swank as sheriff, to Eva Mossman, lot 2813 in Burt's addition; $1610.

William H. Devoll, administrator, to C. M. Phillips, 66 acres in Mary Ann township; $1365.

William H. Devoll, administrator, to Mary E. Devoll, 11 acres in Eden township; $235.

John P. Bolin, executor, to W. M. Vandenberg, lots 35, 38, 39, 42, 43 and 46; $605.

Alice Guthridge to Worthington Slater, 3 1-4 acres in Union township; $1, etc.

Electa M. Chase to Charles W. Slater, 82 1-2 acres in Union township; $1200.

Mary L. Smith, administratrix, to Clara D. Smith, 31 acres of land in Jersey township; $1200.

Sarah Line to John W. Line, lot 33 in Etna, O.; $175.

Ray J. Peppers to Columbus D. Hughes, lot 21 in Fairview addition; $1, etc.

Edward Kibler, sr., administrator, to Mary W. Boscowan, part of lot 3116; $1, etc.

Gail Nethers to John W. Wise, parcel of land in Haughey's third addition; $1, etc.

Benjamin S. Barkan to Earl T. Osborn, lot 218 in Cherryvale Park; $1, etc.

Marriage Licenses.

Homer R. Grubb, a state highway inspector, and Miss Maude E. Tavenner, both of Licking township. Rev. P. H. Fry.

Charles C. Goodin, a tire builder of Akron, O., and Adah J. Pletcher, of this city. Rev. L. C. Sparks.

Russian petroleum producers are experiencing much inconvenience from a scarcity of steel wire rope.

The production of copper in the United States last year exceeded all previous records.

The Peruvians and Bolivians make boats of straw.

BEN L. BERKEY MEETS DEATH IN A WRECK

The Advocate is indebted to Dr. I. N. Palmer, formerly of Newark, now located at 142 1/2 Killingsworth avenue, Portland, Ore., for further details of the Northern Pacific collision in which Benjamin L. Berkey, a former Newark man, was killed last week.

Five persons were killed and three seriously injured at South Cheney, 17 miles west of Spokane, when Northern Pacific train No. 2, known as the North Coast Limited, ran into the rear of Northern Pacific-Burlington train No. 42, telescoping an empty day coach that was being "deadheaded" east into the rear Pullman of the Burlington train, which was standing in front of the station. The accident happened in a dense fog.

Mr. Berkey was a friend of Willis Boggs of North avenue. He was formerly a B. & O. machinist here, went to Denver probably 30 years ago and at the time of his death was a traveling salesman.

Dr. Palmer writes that the winter in Oregon has been severe, with heavy snows and high winds, but the weather now is summerlike. Gardens and lawns are being put in condition and farmers are plowing. Dr. Palmer asks the Advocate to remember him to old time Newark friends.

PRISONERS STUDY SOUTH AMERICA AS PROSPECTIVE HOME

(Associated Press Telegram)

Ossing, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Members of the Mutual Welfare League composed of prisoners in Sing Sing prison have begun a study of conditions in South America with a view to going there after their release to make new homes free from the environment of their criminal careers. Those who contemplate going to South America to live are taking a course in Spanish.

Persons interested in prison work have provided the teachers and a lecturer has been engaged to deliver a lecture on South America before the league. He will supplement his talk with motion pictures.

"Y" BASKETBALL TEAM PRACTICE AT 9:00 TONIGHT

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team will practice tonight at 9:00 o'clock at the gymnasium. At least ten men should report for this workout.

RUSSIANS MAY JOIN FAMILIES NOW IN AMERICA

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, Feb. 23.—The Russian government has granted permission to the wives and children of men who came to America before the war to leave Russia and join their relatives in America, says Leon Sanders, president of the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Society of America. The news came in a message from Isidore Hershfield, a lawyer who was sent by the society to give relief to the Jewish war sufferers in Poland and Galicia.

The message was forwarded by Ambassador Gerard at Berlin to Secretary of State Lansing in Washington, who transmitted it to Mr. Sanders.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ketner at their home at Toboso on Friday, February 25, a son.

The latest piece of fire-fighting equipment is a tricar chemical engine.

Our exports amount to about 2 per cent of our business under normal conditions.

EXTREME WEAKNESS AND SUFFERING

Read How Mrs. Goodling got Relief and Strength.

York, Pa.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found it to be all you say it is. I was so sick that I could not stand at my sink to wash dishes and I could not sit without a pillow under me. I had the doctor every few days but since I have taken the Compound I don't have to send for him. I have had three children and could not raise any of them, but since I have taken the Compound I have a bright baby boy. I advise every suffering woman to try it and get relief. It has done wonders for me."—Mrs. CATHERINE GOODLING, 138 E. King Street, York, Pa.

When a medicine has been successful in bringing health to so many, no woman has a right to say without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." There must be more than a hundred thousand women in this country who, like Mrs. Goodling, have proven what wonders Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can do for weak and ailing women. Try it and see for yourself.

If there are any complications you don't understand, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

Don't Buy a Spring Suit

Until You Have Seen The Grand Array of Ladies' and Men's Ready-to-Wear Garments In All The Very Latest Styles & Novelties

DIRECT FROM NEW YORK

Which Will Shortly Be On Display At NEWARK'S NEW MODERN HOME OF THE STYLES.

"The When Store"

36 West Main Street.
WATCH FOR THE OPENING DATE TO BE ANNOUNCED LATER

Ride a Bicycle And Get the Most Out of Your Day

Stop a moment. Think. How much time are you now wasting in getting to and from your work? How many of life's sweetest privileges are you sacrificing when you eat your lunch out of a cold dinner box when others are sitting down to a hot noon-day meal at home? How many hours and hours of pleasure are you missing because after the work is done there is no time for going anywhere?

These are pertinent questions that we feel we have a right to ask because we know that if you will buy a bicycle you will bring into your life every day, much that you cannot have if you go on in the old way.

Then ask yourself this question: "Why shouldn't I buy a bicycle?" After you have looked around for good reasons and cannot find them, come in and let us show you the new models, how much you can get in a wheel for a little money.

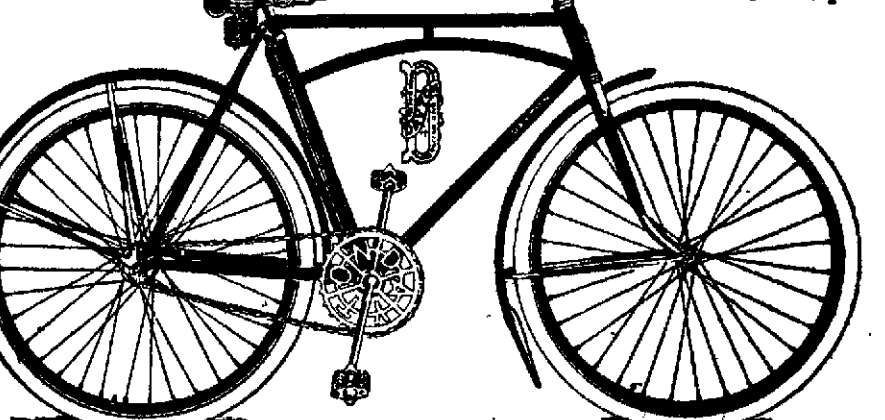

We Will Observe Tomorrow, Tuesday, February 29th For Bicycle Day.

We have arranged a musical entertainment for you tomorrow.

Come in and select your mount while the assortment is large. We will lay it away till spring. Sixty 1916 models to choose from. Sole agency for Miami, Crown, Tribune, Excelsior, DeLux and Vim Bicycles, Harley-Davidson Motoreycles, and Miami Power Bicycles.

HOWARD BEENEY
AUTO PHONE 5163. 230 EAST MAIN ST.

The Dayton is America's Finest Wheel

You May Think You Don't Want a Bicycle But There's No Question About You Needing One

All of us want an automobile. But most of us haven't one, so we walk or ride in street cars. We don't realize how badly we need a bicycle.

Save Time—Save Money
Be Happy—Be Healthy

Think of the time we would save with a bicycle! Think of the errands the kids could do with it. Why, it would pay for itself in no time. Then, how happy we all would be and how much more healthy—for a bicycle would take us out in the air and give just the right amount of exercise.

Bicycle Day is February 29th

We have made special arrangements for your reception. Drop in and let's talk it over. We have a complete 1916 line of the old reliable Dayton Bicycles—the bicycle with a five-year guarantee.

Newark Auto Supply Co.
34 West Main Street.

OUR SHOES ARE A PICTURE

of artistic shoe craftsmanship. Graceful in line, smart in style and made unusually attractive by the beautiful and novel leather and cloth tops. A visit will well repay the trouble. We sell the original and genuine Dr. A. Reed-Cashion Sole Shoes.

JONES & WESSON
Next to Y. M. C. A.

300,000 BATHES INTERNALLY

The marvellous growth of Internal Bathing since the advent of "J. B. R. C." is accounted for not only by the enthusiastic praise of its users to others, but also by physicians insisting more and more that the Lower Intestines must be kept free from waste to insure perfect health and efficiency.

Mary L. J. Walker, M. L. D., Olean, N. Y., writes:

"I must tell you of a case of Constipation lasting twenty years, that was cured by your Cascadia treatment. The physician in charge said the patient had a tumor lying between the stomach and intestines. The patient being 62 years old, he claimed no help could be given except the knife; but finding the intestines in a very bad state, he finally agreed to try 'J. B. R. C.' which resulted in a complete recovery. When I took the case, it was taking a laxative three times a day, and had been for three weeks, couldn't get along without it—now she never takes any laxative."

Call at Hudson Avenue Pharmacy, 12 E. Williams, Prop., 322 Hudson Ave., Cor. Oak St., Newark, Ohio, and ask for free booklet on the subject called "Why Man of To-day is Only 50 Per Cent Efficient."

NUXATED IRON

Increases strength of delicate people 200 per cent in ten days in many instances. $100 MONEY BACK GUARANTEE. Full explanation in large article soon to appear in this paper. Ask your doctor or druggist about it.

Wm. A. Erman, Evans Cut Rate Drug Store always carry it in stock.

JOHN M. SWARTZ ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Practices in all courts. Will attend promptly to the business entrusted to him. Special attention given to collections, administrations of estates, adoptions, and trustees. He is also a member of the Bar Association of New Jersey and attended to Special facilities in all countries. Write him now.

His life was carried from Japan by a missionary named...

ASK FOR and GET HORLICK'S
THE ORIGINAL
MALTED MILK
Cheap substitutes cost YOU same price.

Read the Want Column tonight.

WESTERN UNION Sets the Miles at Naught

A business campaign of Day Letters and Night Letters will quickly prove disquiet an imaginary barrier and clock time only a comparison.

THE WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH CO.

SILENCE

OF OFFICERS AND CREW OF REQUISITIONED BRITISH TRANSPORT

Who Decline to Reveal the Service in Which Former Liner Was Engaged.

New York, Feb. 28.—Officers of the White Star liner Cedric, here for the first time since November, 1914, when she was requisitioned by the British government as a transport for troops, declined to reveal anything concerning the government service in which the big trans-Atlantic liner has been engaged.

Members of the crew as well as officers said they were under pledge to the British authorities to tell nothing concerning the Cedric's war movements. It has been reported that the steamer was used to carry troops to France, Egypt, and the Dardanelles.

The only outward sign of the Cedric's use in the war was the gray paint which covered her superstructure and the hinged steel plates that hid her ports so that she could pass unseen in the night.

The Cedric is unarmed and shows no signs of having had guns while equipped as a transport. She was released by the admiralty to carry war munitions and supplies from this country to England, but is still ready for transport services, when desired.

Local authorities on international law, who were asked whether a vessel could be restored to her former standing as a merchant ship, after having been used as a war transport, said the London conference on naval prizes reached no decision on that point.

Readers' Viewpoint

Let Us Prepare.

Editor of the Advocate:

Let us prepare to exercise the everlasting right—yea, the divine right—of self-defense and self-protection by providing and maintaining such an army and such a navy as will enable us "to achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace"—see Lincoln's second inaugural—"among ourselves and with all nations."

Let us at the same time prepare for the reign of international ethics and the application of the Golden Rule to nations as well as individuals.

Let us prepare for the time when the fruits of Mother Earth shall be more equally and justly divided among all her children and where comfortable homes and wholesome food and suitable clothing shall be at least within the reach of all.

Let us prepare for the time when the principles of retaliation shall find no place in our criminal statutes, and the demand of an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth and a life for a life will be eliminated from the minds and hearts of all the people.

Let us prepare for the day when all adult people—fathers and mothers especially—will seek to gain the respect of children by showing due respect to them in all situations and under all circumstances—and by manifesting a sympathetic interest in their happiness and welfare.

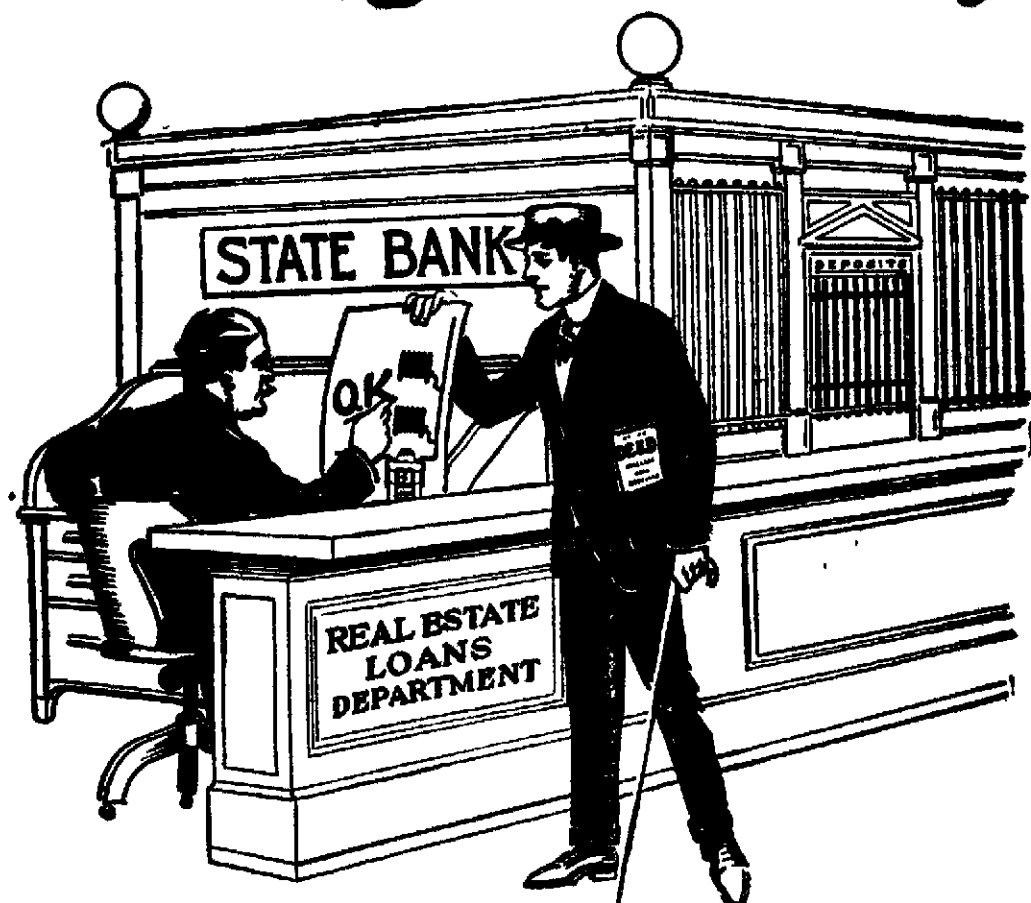

Let us prepare for the day when people who count themselves rich and prosperous will all realize that their incomes and possessions are derived from the sweat and labor of others, and instead of being puffed up with pride and selfishness will be duly humbled in view of their responsibility as stewards and their obligations to the poor and unfortunate.

Let us prepare for such an observance of the laws of health—ventilation, cogitation regulation, moderation, dietation, sanitation, exertation—that we will suffer the least possible exposure to all diseases, and will become more and more immune to all the germs of disease and all the temptation of the devil.

Let us prepare for the day when the principle of religious toleration

Lessons in heating economy

Have you a home that will give you daily and nightly recuperation, so you can return vigorously to your business duties or rise to new ones? Associations of bankers are agreed that the business man or farmer should set aside part of the money he annually borrows and invest it in practical improvements for the home. A sanitary, cozily warmed house is the best insurance that the man is a good risk—that he will succeed.

"The surest loans we make are on radiator heated buildings. They are always so easily rentable and salable."

Bankers, builders, and real estate men all know the increase in property value and stability of investment where AMERICAN Radiators and IDEAL Boilers are installed and therefore gladly loan money to those who wish to make this improvement.

AMERICAN & IDEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

These outfits make property sell or rent quicker and at a profit. Every room in the house is heated with less care-taking than required to run one stove for one room, and millions of dollars have been saved in reduced fuel bills by the users of IDEAL-AMERICAN heating.

A No. 2-22-W IDEAL Boiler and 461 ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $225, were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent fitter. This did not include cost of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which are extra and vary according to climatic and other conditions.

The lasting heat that costs the least

The most important question to settle about an old or new building is the heating. IDEAL heating has answered this question for hundreds of thousands of house-owners for over twenty-five years, and as an investment it is permanent and will command a good price even after the owner has enjoyed its comfort and savings for many years.

A little larger first investment over cost of a cheap heating equipment can be quickly overcome by omitting extra inner doors, chimneys, mantels, storm sash, weather strips, etc. You might better increase your borrowing at the bank, for the fuel and other savings that IDEAL heating will give you will make money for you far beyond the bank interest you have to pay.

Send at once for our (free) book "Ideal Heating," which gives most valuable information. Puts you under no obligation to buy.

IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators change any house into a home.

ARCO WAND Vacuum Cleaner—a stationary, practical Cleaner. $150

We also make the ARCO WAND Vacuum Cleaner, connected by iron suction pipe to various floors of houses, flats, schools, churches, hotels, etc. Through a light-weight hose ALL the dirt, cobwebs, lint, threads, moths, etc., are drawn with lightning rapidity down the iron piping into big, sealed dust-bucket in cellar. No dragging around a clumsy, inefficient portable cleaner—instead you have a practical outfit that is a part of the building—like radiator heating. Ask for catalog (free).

No exclusive agents.
Sold by all dealers.

AMERICAN RADIATOR COMPANY

Write Department N-19
815-822 S. Michigan Ave.
Chicago

Public Showrooms at Chicago, New York, Boston, Worcester, Providence, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Buffalo, Rochester, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Detroit, Atlanta, Birmingham, New Orleans, Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Des Moines, Omaha, Minneapolis, St. Paul, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Seattle, Portland, Spokane, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Toronto, Bradford, (Ont.), London, Paris, Brussels, Berlin, Cologne, Milan, Vienna.

which we find in the constitution of the United States will not only mean permission for other people to believe and worship in a different manner from ourselves, but will mean the same consideration and respect for other people's faith and worship that we want them to have for ours.

Let us prepare for the day when every widowed mother and every worse than widowed mother who is seeking to feed and clothe and properly educate her children by the labor of her hands will be recognized not as a burden on society, but as a servant of society, and will receive all necessary sympathy, encouragement and support—not grudgingly, but cheerfully and joyfully, that the Scripture may be fulfilled which saith, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Let us prepare for the day when justice and mercy—not forgetting the need of reason and intelligence will meet together in dealing with all offenders, from the fretful and stubborn child of tender years to the most hardened criminal; for is not the Lord Almighty the maker of us all?

Let us prepare for the day when temperance and licentiousness will be known no more, and when all forms of injustice and oppression shall give place to the principles of justice and equality.

Let us prepare for the death that awaits us by ordering our lives from day to day according to the highest reason of which we are capable and according to the "sweetness and light" that may be vouchsafed us from communion with Nature and with the Eternal Spirit "that dost prefer before all temples the upright heart and pure."

Thus sang the poet Tennyson:

"Speak to him soul for he hears, and spirit with spirit may meet; Closer is he than breathing and nearer than hands and feet"
M. R. Scott.

An Oversight.

"What do you think of his nerve?" exclaimed the old man, who was notoriously tricky in business. "He called me a barefaced robber!"
"Oh, well," replied the man who knew him, "probably in his excitement he didn't notice your mustache."—New York Globe.

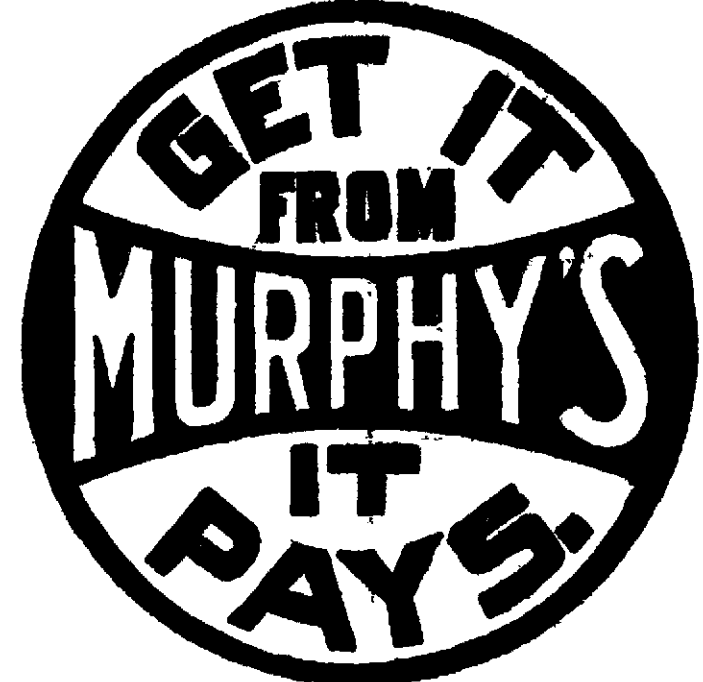

Norway will establish a museum of the whaling industry.

Advertised Letters

First class mail, Domestic and Foreign origin, advertised at the Newark, Ohio postoffice, week ending, Feb. 21, 1916.

Domestic.
Atherton, Mrs. C., 29 E. Locust St.
Bonney, Mrs. F. E., 252 Elmwood Ave.
Burgess, Mrs. Josie.
Butler, H. L., care of L. J. Weisler.
Carson, Miss Mable, 120 Walnut St.
Childers, Mrs. Julia.
Cooder, Mrs. F. E., 444 W. Williams St.
Dalby, Wm., R. F. D.
Daugherty, Mrs. Sarah.
Diment, Mrs. W.
Gertler, Dr. G. R., 16 N. Park.
Hartsock, Wm. P.
Hughes, Miss Laura, 1166 E. Main St.
Jones, Harry, care B. & O. Yard Office.
Kelly, Mrs. B. H.
Lynch, Mrs. B. N.
Mac Donald, Henry.
Martin, Miss, 403 Seroko Ave.
Merendo, Ross.
Mery, Rose, 56 Gay St.
Midgley, Tom, care Midgley Tire Co.
Morrison, R. O., R. F. D.
Mostkov, Lesser.
Newark Junk Co.
Roberts, Lee.
Rousch, S. H., R. F. D.
Sheriff, Chas. H., 44 E. Chestnut St.
Stein, Miss Emma, 97 Curtin St.
Stevens, B. F.
Strum, Miss I. R.
Theis, J. J. (2.)
Trace, Mrs. Cary.
Foreign.
Avon Stanciu, 489 Wehrle Ave.
Constantino Halli Nicolae, Box 257.
F. T. MERCER,
Postmaster.

3 LBS. BIRD EGG BEANS, 25c

3 CANS EARLY JUNE PEAS, 25c

We will advertise four specials each day. Keep your eye on this space and save money.

For a Reliable -PIANO-

At the most reasonable price and on liberal terms of payments see

The Munson Music
31 ARCADE. E. H. FRANK

The Only Day
To Use Coffee
FEB. 30TH
There's a Reason for POSTUM
Every Day!

THE NEWARK ADVOCATE

Published By

The Advocate Printing Company

C. H. SPENCER, President and General Manager.
W. J. BOWERS, Secretary-Treasurer.

Member Associated Press, American Newspaper Publishers' Association, Select List Ohio Daily Newspapers, and Audit Bureau of Circulations.

Foreign Advertising Manager—Robert F. Ward, Brunswick Building, New York, and Advertising Building, Chicago.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

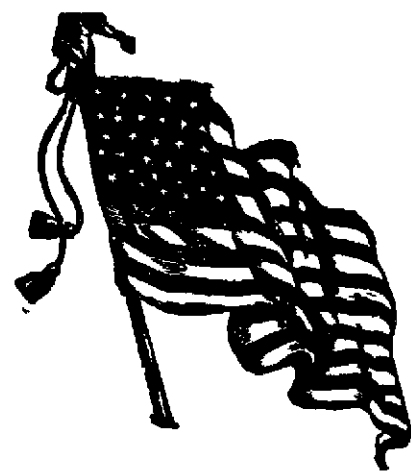

Single copy.....10 cts.
Delivered by carrier, per week 10 cts.
In Advance
Delivered by carrier, one month.....$ 4.00
Delivered by carrier, six months.....2.25
Delivered by carrier, one year.....4.50
Subscribers who arrange to pay at the office are subject to a call from the collector if payment is not made when due.

News Stands Where The Daily Advocate Is Sold.

Frederic G. Spear, 20 North Park Place
J. C. Steele, 100 East 1st St.
J. M. East, 100 East 1st St.
Interurban Sta. News Stand, E. Main
Arcade Hotel, 100 East 1st St.
J. Davis, 100 East 1st St.
Atherton's, Cor. Fourth and Main Folmer Bros., East Main St.
Singer Drug Store, Union at The Pastime, North Second St.
The Warden, Warden Hotel
E. L. Decker, 405 West Main St.
E. Fulton, 120 Union St.
Union News Co., Union Station

ESTABLISHED IN 1820

Entered as Second Class Matter March 10, 1884, at the postoffice at Newark, Ohio, under Act of March 4, 1879.

By cracky, he's at it again! News note from a Tiffin newspaper after the recent Chamber of Commerce banquet: "The governor also ate a part of a large plate of gizzards that, topped with a small American flag, was placed before him during the dinner course. He gained a great reputation as a lover of gizzards."

Ohio's good young governor on Washington's birthday compared himself to the Father of His Country in that both were attacked by the newspapers. On Lincoln's birthday he made a similar comparison showing that the Great Emancipator's administration was severely attacked as his is being assailed. On McKinley's birthday he did the same thing. It's simply awful how that man hates himself.

An investigation of the Ohio state workmen's compensation fund has just been completed by E. H. Downey of the Pennsylvania state insurance department. He finds the Ohio fund perfectly solvent and says that employers or employees need have no fear notwithstanding the efforts of liability insurance companies to implant distrust. Having in mind the assault and rulings issued within the past two years he said: "It would be worth millions of dollars to break down the Ohio state plan and such efforts need astonish no one."

Contest Is On.

Ohio Republicans have contesting candidates for delegates-at-large to the national convention. The next two months will witness a merry mill. The matter has evolved into a practical referendum on Governor Willis in his own party. The real test will be whether or not his personal machine, aided by old P. Regularity will be able to overcome the drift. Democrats have no contests in the state primary.

The trouble in the Willis camp broke when the harmony agreement was made with Burton and Daugherty and a "Big Four" slate was made. Since that time there has been considerable of pulling hither and yon and an effort was made to have Willis withdraw lest he hurt the Burton cause. Finally as a peace offering secret overtures were made to those who have not been strong for Governor Willis, and the result is an elimination contest. If Willis wins Burton will have all the delegates, as originally slated. If Willis loses, Ralph Tyler, or Matt Glaser or Doctor Giffen will win, and Burton will still have the delegation. If it comes heads Burton wins, and if it comes tails Willis loses. All candidates are declared for Burton first choice, with Paul Howland, second choice.

A Good Democrat.

R. C. Snyder, former editor of the Coshocton Age, now publisher of the Norwalk Reflector-Herald (Rep.) has the following editorial under the heading "A Good Democrat," concerning Congressman Ashbrook: "Down in the 17th Ohio district there is a Democrat, by the name of William A. Ashbrook, who for the past decade has represented his dis-

Daily History Class—Feb. 28.

1712—Louis Joseph, marquis of Montcalm, French military hero in colonial (Canadian) service, born; died 1759, of wounds, near Quebec.

John Thomas Scharf, historical writer, died; born 1843.

Utah merchant steamer Thorndike and sank a German mine.

Musical Events.
half Mars, Saturn, Jupiter, proper Mars, Mercury, Con- tags, under the Belt in strict in congress. And precedent and prospects both indicate that he can have the job as long as he wants it. But Ashbrook has just started something that gives him unusual claim to fame—be it remembered at the same time that he is a Democratic congressman of the Democratic persuasion. But he is fighting the "pork barrel." He is chairman of a sub-committee of the house that has charge of the appropriation for postoffice buildings. He has one for $100,000 at Mt. Vernon in his own district; but he is taking the broad stand that nothing of the sort shall come up while the nation is facing the possibility of spending millions for preparedness. And he is right. He is standing firm in spite of the howling of the hungry, particularly from the south, who insist that legislation means getting all you can for your own district and the "folks back home." It takes nerve to be a statesman but Ashbrook comes pretty close to filling the bill."

Manitoba Enfranchises Women.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

A short time ago the Legislature of Manitoba extended the parliamentary franchise to women on the same terms as men. Manitoba is the first province in the Dominion of Canada to take this step, and is proud of the fact as it has a right to be. It is indeed an honor to be a pioneer among the British-American possessions in such a progressive movement, and especially to be first among the western Canadian provinces, all of which are tending strongly in the same direction.

It is recognized in Manitoba, as it must be recognized everywhere, that the act of enfranchisement is simply the first toward woman's citizenship. It is, as the Free Press puts it, the simple and primary thing. "It will effectively register the special and peculiar attitude, viewpoint, temperament—call it what you will—of women. It is a means of insuring definitely that woman's mentality shall modify, moderate, temper, supplement and complement the mentality of man." But it means also, that woman's battle for political equality, in the larger sense, has only begun.

The triumph for woman suffrage in a western prairie province of the Dominion, of course, offers a parallel to conditions in the United States, that cannot be overlooked by students of social trends. On the woman suffrage map and on the prohibition map of the Dominion and of the United States alike the West in white, the East, if prohibition in Maine be excepted, is black. This should not be the case. At all events it should not continue to be the case. It is high time that ultra-conservatives in the eastern sides of the neighboring nations should realize that there is going to be no recession in the forward movement of the race, no matter how discouraging, at times, appearances may be. Woman suffrage and prohibition, two of the greatest social movements of the period, are marching hand in hand toward ultimate and general victory. Eastern Canada and eastern United States cannot afford to hold off through conservatism or stubbornness, until suffrage and prohibition are forced upon them. They should go forth to meet and welcome the approaching white waves.

Back Up The President.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

No president ever stood for the right in a great national crisis without becoming the target of "copperheads" of the time. Washington, even before he was president, while he was fighting the battles for independence so suffered. Lincoln, while standing firm for the perpetuity of the Union, was vilified, and so it is now with Wilson, assailed by three different groups—the "peace-at-any-price" fanatics, the so-called Americans whose first and only love is for their native land now in the war, and the politicians of the opposing party who seek to discredit the president only that they may be returned to power.

For months these malign forces have been at work planning their separate campaigns, and now at Washington are making their assault, with a view to tearing down the foreign policy of the president—the policy that has kept the nation out of war and at the same time has invoked international law for the preservation of neutral rights and the protection of civilization. Where this attack is not sheer fanaticism, it is malevolent, vindictive and unpatriotic. The ambitious have accused him of ambition; the rank partisans have charged him with unneutrality; the extreme pacifists find a warlord in the one man who for more than two years has done everything in reason to keep the country out of war and has succeeded. At the same time the people have recognized him as a president whose only purpose is service, the best that a president can render to his countrymen; whose ideals are high, whose vision is clear and whose motives are pure. Today he stands at Washington firm in a patriotism and a world-wide humanity, with a declaration of American rights upon his lips—a heroic figure which the howling derisives of none of the opposing factions, or all of them together, will be able to tear down.

Mr. Fletcher's Confirmation.

The Senate acts tardily in confirming the appointment of Henry F. Fletcher as Ambassador to Mexico, but it acts, and with a decided vote as to leave hanging in the air those who for political or intervention reasons against the Administration have opposed recognition to the Carranza regime, which alone holds out any present promise of being able to establish a stable Government in that distracted country.

Mr. Fletcher is the best equipped man for this post in the Diplomatic Service. His long diplomatic experience in Latin America qualifies him especially. From his high official position in Mexico he can be a powerful influence not only in the progressive reconstruction of that country and our broken relations with it, but in forwarding the cause of a united Pan-America which has so happily begun. In a vote of 49 to 18 for Mr. Fletcher the Senate has done something to make up for its delay in acting on so fit a nomination.

Henry Ford.

(Philadelphia Record.)

It is creditable to the intelligence of Judge Ben Lindsey, one of the Ford delegates, who has just returned, that his opinions have been changed by his European experience. He is quoted as saying:

Close observation has greatly altered my opinion on the situation in Europe, and most other delegates have had similar changes of view. It looks to me like a long war. I see little chance at present for efforts to bring about peace.

If Henry Ford would read history, which he says is not interesting to him, he might have come to Judge Lindsey's conclusion without spending the $400,000 his expedition has cost him. Incidentally also he might have saved his native country from a great deal of undeserved ridicule, which ought to be no small consideration. When Mr. Ford knows as much about history as he does about automobiles, he will be in a much better position to give advice to nations engaged in a death struggle.

Quaker Quips.

(Philadelphia Record.)

We are inclined to forgive our enemies, if they are bigger than we are.

It isn't every after-dinner speaker who can keep his audience from getting table bored.

We all like a little change. Many a girl who is a blonde is just dying to be a brunette.

The man who doesn't know which side his bread is buttered on is generally willing to take both sides.

Economy is wealth, we are told, in spite of which most of us prefer to get rich in some other way.

The pessimist who stands in his own light reflects that he would have been thrown in the shade any way.

Biobios—"Henpeckle boasts that he is a man of few words." Slobbos—"Yes I guess his wife has a monopoly in that household."

Wigg—"At any rate, success hasn't turned his head." Wagg—"No, several years ago he had a boil that left him with a stiff neck."

Rippling Rhymes

Good Scouts.

There are so many noble gents in this bright world of joy and glee, that men who seem like eighteen cents don't need to worry you or me. We do not need associates who are not built to put up ice, we need not mingle with the skates who would be dear at any price. The woods are full of splendid scouts whose friendship is a thing to prize, but if you herd with down-and-outs, you cannot to such friendship rise. You must be honest, good and straight, if he'd have friends who're worth the while; he cannot trot a crooked gait and be considered quite in style. The men whose friendship is a boon are found all o'er this cheerful earth; they do not give a nicayune for anything but sterling worth. You may be poor, you may be bald, you may have water on the brain, but when you're to their circle called, you know you have not lived in vain.

WALT MASON.

A Little More German.
Professor—"You're not enough of a militarist, Mr. Smythe."

Student Smythe—"Why so, sir?"
Professor—"Every time I call on you you're not prepared."—Gargoyle.

HOBBSON FOR CONGRESS.
Tuscaloosa, Ala., Feb. 28.—Former Representative Richmond P. Hobson will be a candidate for congress from the new tenth district.

He will oppose W. B. Bankhead, son of United States Senator Bankhead. Mr. Hobson was defeated for the senate in 1914 by Oscar W. Underwood.

Damascus in Syria is the oldest of all existing cities.

Spirit of the Press

Preparedness.

It seems to be true that the Middle West is less interested in preparedness. The World's post-cards of the only brought out 72.12 per cent of answers favoring military training in schools. A similar test in Chicago found only 79 per cent of the replies favorable.—New York World.

Another Atrocity.

Germany is rubbing it in on the Russians. In all Russian territory now in German control the Gregorian calendar has been adopted, instead of the Julian. This robs the Russians of 13 days' time.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Spotting a Good Story.

Through a typographical error in yesterday morning's paper the age of Howard Casper Finney of Cedarville, who secured a license Wednesday to wed Miss Katherine M. Mitchell, was given as 200 years. This, of course, was an error, he being only twenty. Springfield Sun.

Demand for Fuel.

The increasing use of stationary engines and tractors upon American farms, and the rapidly increasing distribution of automobiles, creates an enormous demand for fuel at a time when the greatly increased use of illuminants other than coal oil points to an ultimate national lessening of the domestic demand for that petroleum derivative. The producers of coal oil have glimpsed the future and set about acquiring control of city lighting and heating plants and franchises. Possibly they intend also to keep a close grip upon all substitutes for gasoline, as well as upon gasoline, so that they can dictate the price that everyone must pay for motor fuel.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Why Men Wear Out.

If we manage to live one day at a time we may survive many years. It is living in the future that wears so many of us out.—Los Angeles Times.

A Model Husband.

Our idea of a model husband is one who thinks his wife's headache is as important as his own rheumatism.—Galveston News.

Pointed Paragraphs

That Wheeling woman who is a grandmother at 32 stands an excellent chance to become great before she is 50.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

The Russian bear appears to have come through the hibernation season with an excellent appetite.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

In these days diplomacy is made up of just one delicate situation after another.—New York Sun.

That a college yell can be heard from coast to coast is what might be called cheering news.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

Mush, Nish and Kish have an inebriate flavor that fits poorly with recent prohibition orders in Europe.—Brooklyn Eagle.

One way to restrain the Oklahoma legislators, who have been using ink wells at one another, would be to enforce the use of fountain pens.—Columbus Dispatch.

If you set out to be the architect of your own fortune, keep in mind that the building inspector will be along later.—Youth's Companion.

The most important part of the British war machine seems to be British credit.—Charleston News and Courier.

Next thing we hear may be that the Grand Duke Nicholas has flagged a train on the Kaiser's Constantinople to Bagdad railway.—Indianapolis Star.

So far the only substitute for gasoline that has been found in the street car ticket.—Detroit Free Press.

A New York editor inquires as to the location of the Middle West. Geography is making some progress when a New York editor admits that there may be something west of the Hudson.—Rochester Herald.

Until the belligerents began to make war appropriations nobody had any idea that there was so much money in the world. And even yet a good many of us don't think that there is.—Indianapolis News.

There may be something in Senator Smoot's idea that the best possible rejoinder to attacks on Mr. Root's speech is Mr. Root's speech.—Washington Post.

It is said that the Italians are about to gain Trent. It's about time they gained something in addition to experience.—Charleston News and Courier.

A Little Fun

The Other Side.

She—Who is that stinky little man that keeps running around and taking the ball away from everybody?
He—That's the referee.
She—What side is he on?
He—Oh! the other side—always.—Minnesota Minnehaha.

The Wretch.

First Pierionite—I'm going to a wedding.
Second Simp—I am going to kiss the bride?
First Pierionite—Oh, no; just for a good time.—Record.

Know What He Was Doing.
Knew (dictating letter to be sent to his wife)—The nurses here are a very plain lot.—

Nurse—Oh, come! I say! That's not very polite to us.
Tommy—Never mind, nurse, put it down. It'll please her.—

THE CONCEDED WINNER OF EVERY GREAT DRIVE

The Advocate's Melting Pot

He that spareth in everything is an inexcusable niggard. He that spareth in nothing is an inexcusable madman. The mean is to spare in what is least necessary, and to lay out more liberally in what is most required in our several circumstances.—Lord Halifax.

Hub!
They say that money talks, but, gee!
It's not on speaking terms with me.
—Luke McLuke.
They say that talk is cheap but, say!
Just telephone Call-Fornia.

The price of a three-minute talk from Newark to San Francisco is $16.95.

Aunt Caline says: Less Sed is right sick an' they've had a doctor out from town to see him. He said Less has got enlargement of the heart. It has come too late in life to do Less' wife any good but just the same we was grateful to hear it.

The Cross Lady
She has everyone afraid of her, She's cross to friends and foes; She even, so they all aver, Does cross-stitch when she sews.

Refined Weapons.
Worn out with the nervous strain of striving against fearful odds, to make at least as much money as he has to spend, a man will go from his office to his home, which should be so restful, only to find himself confronted by bouillon spoons, salad forks and butter spreaders.—Ohio State Journal.

Of course it might be worse. It might be rolling-pins, skillet and broomsticks. But nevertheless we contend that it's no way to treat a nice, kind husband.

Did You Know
That Viding was a name given to the piratical Northmen who infested the coasts of England and France in the 8th, 9th and 10th centuries? The word is derived from the Scandinavian "vik," meaning "a bay" and these marauders were called Vikings because their ships put off, not from the lawful harbor like the King's ships, but from the bay.

Up From Oblivion
Miss SUBEROL* we'd have you know, Her mental state is never low; Her heart is light as thistle-down, Misfortunes cannot keep her down.

*A Corker.

You Know Him
Of the high cost of living you hear him complain, And his noisy wailings give people a pain; He gets ten bucks a week, yet this fellow will go And spend four to take his best girl to a show.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

And if he makes fifty, he buys a machine And spends all his dough on high-test gasoline. It doesn't much matter what sort of a fellow he is, he is most always broke.—Grand Rapids News.

That isn't the high cost of living, you shrimps. That's the high cost of loving, and the payroll and leaves him all stranded and flat? He's a nut, but it's great to be crazy like that.—Houston Post.

Then the high cost of living, I take it, Leaves the prospect of saving no clearer than mud If the "nut" spends his wad for joy Fides and shows. How he'll dodge bill collectors the Lord only knows.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

The high c. of l. does not trouble the girl; With a casual air she'll present him a pear. Set in gold for a scarf-pin, and when winds are bleak She'll shiver for she gets just four plunks a week.

HINTS FOR PROGRESSIVE FARMERS.

From Ohio State University "Ag" College.

Horns on dairy cows are a common source of annoyance to dehorned cattle and oftentimes the udders of cattle are seriously injured by horn-jabs. Unless the cow is used for show ring purposes by all means remove the horns. To keep a herd of hornless cows the best way is to begin by dehorning the calves. This can be done when the calf is but four or five days old by using caustic potash. Simply clip away the hair surrounding the small buttons and rub on the caustic potash until the skin bleeds slightly or until a small blister is formed. If the work is properly done a dent can be felt in the skull in a few days and no horns will develop.

Someone has figured out that one family in every twelve in the United States owns an automobile and that 67 per cent of all autos sold are purchased by farmers. It is thought, however, that the number will stand one to every eight families before the end of 1916. The growth of the automobile industry the last ten years is shown in the following sales of passenger cars: 1905, 33,896; 1906, 52,462; 1907, 67,389; 1908, 85,846; 1909, 125,592; 1910, 175,809; 1911, 208,957; 1912, 378,261; 1913, 450,000; 1914, 515,000; 1915, 703,527. The population of the United States is one car for every 48 persons. The proportion of motor cars to miles of improved road is one to one.

Pigeons are responsible for about 20 per cent of the spread of hog cholera, according to the authorities who are dealing with its eradication. The farmer who owns or harbors pigeons should either confine them at home or dispose of them. Pigeons fly from farm to farm in search of food which they generally find in the feed yards. In flying long distances and visiting many yards they easily get the germs on their feet and infect a whole neighborhood before people realize that cholera is in their herds. In 1915 the loss from hog cholera in the United States was estimated at $750,000,000, and if one-fifth of this can be attributed to pigeons, they will have to go.

In Franklin county, N. Y., where 124 miles of good road has been built, eight pieces of land selected at random increased 27.8 per cent in value. In Lee county, Va., which built 84 miles of road, land advanced 25 per cent in value. Spottsylvania county, in the same state, improved 41 miles of road and the land adjoining sold, for $44.75, where previously to the improvement it had been bought for just $20 less an acre. After Manatee county, Fla., had constructed 84 miles of macadam and shell highway, the land along the road increased more than $20 per acre in less than two years, and the land a mile away from the road showed an increase of $10 an acre. In Wood county, O., where land has been drained and bounded by limestone pikes, the values have risen from $70 to $250 an acre.

GO NO FARTHER

The Evidence Is At Your Door.

Newark proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt:

G. W. Coulter, manager of the L. H. Swisher Cigar Co., 43 German St., Newark, says: "Kidney trouble came on me like the thrust of a knife. A sharp pain caught me through the small of my back and for the year and a half following, I was in poor health. I couldn't work steadily and felt badly. I doctored, wore blasters, in fact did everything, but didn't get relief. Mornings I had to drag myself around and it was hard for me to dress. I couldn't stoop or bend. Often I had to lie down again. I felt so utterly worn-out and weak. I had rheumatic pains in my limbs. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me a lasting cure." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Coulter had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

True Friendship.

That friendship only is indeed genuine when two friends, without speaking a word to each other, can nevertheless find happiness in being together.—George Elliot.

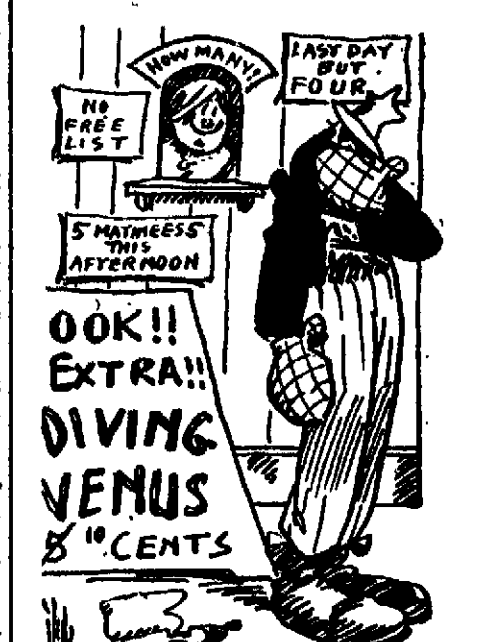

Two of a Kind.

First Frosh—My father has a fine cedar chest. Second Frosh—Nothing. My father is a veteran and has a hickory leg.—Dartmouth Jack-o-Lantern.

Can't Fool Her.

It can't be much fun to be president. A president's wife knows exactly how much salary he gets.—Spokane Review.

Abe Martin

An amateur show is good if it's bad, an awful if it's good. "Give me th' old-fashioned Christmas when you got presents instead o' cards," said Miss Germa Williams, today.

King Constantine of Greece is a nephew of Queen Alexandra.

Columbus and Dayton People

Approve "Outside" Cold Remedy

They Find the External Application, Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve, the Best Treatment for Croup and Cold Troubles. It Replaces Harmful Internal Dosing, Poultices, Plasters, Flannel Jackets and Vapor Lamps.

You Just Rub It on Over Throat and Chest—Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption.

Since Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve was introduced here from the South a short time ago, Ohio folk have found it no longer necessary to dose for cold troubles. Down South Vick's Vap-O-Rub is universally used instead of internal medicines for all forms of cold troubles; from head colds, asthma and catarrh, down to deep chest colds, sore throat, la grippe, bronchitis or influenza pneumonia.

Vick's comes in salve form—you just apply it over the throat and chest, covering with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors that are inhaled, with each breath, all night long, loosening the phlegm and opening the air passages.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, Mrs. F. B. Hinds, 901 Bellows Ave., writes:—

"We have used your Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve on our baby, and we can recommend it to anyone, as it saved our child from having a bad case of pneumonia."

COLUMBUS, OHIO, Mr. Charles Thompson, 40 W. Maple St., states:—

"At the time I received your remedy I was suffering with a severe cold, chest and throat all choked up, and I was unable to breathe. I followed your directions, using hot wet towels to open the pores, and then rubbed Vick's Salve well in, and it certainly did work wonders, without taking a drop of any other medicine."

DAYTON, OHIO, Mrs. Thomas Johnson, 1634 Germantown Street:—

"My little boy was taken with a severe case of croup a few weeks ago, and after trying everything I knew without much relief, my husband gave me a jar of Vick's Vap-O-Rub, which I used with splendid results. I also find it a fine remedy for headache, and shall always keep it in my home hereafter."

Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve comes in three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00, at all drug stores.

Grace Gray, Messrs. Angus Long, Claude Criss, Harold Woodard, Wane and Dwight Wines; Sam Davis, Emmett Orr, Arthur Pulk, Byron Harter, Willie Osburne; Milton Handley; Russell, Paul, Howard Stotter; Orus Helsler; Oscar Jones; Walter F. Orr of Athens, Ohio.

A number of the younger married women entertained with a Leap Year dancing party at Assembly Hall on Saturday evening, which proved delightful in every way. The dance program was furnished by Parker's orchestra from Columbus and a buffet luncheon was served in the ballroom. The table was adorned with individual pink candles and pink roses were placed in crystal vases. The dancers were:

Messrs. and Mesdames, George Pickup, William C. Miller, Clarence Halsey, Harry Baker, John Franklin, Charles W. Miller, Fred Black, Jesse Elliott, Charles W. Montgomery, William Gardner, Harry Scott, Charles Kellenberger, Ralph Wyeth, Robbins Hunter, Charles Hollander, Frank Webb, George Upson, Fenwick Webb, George Flory, Donald Ferguson, Howard Maddocks, Edward Kibler, Jr., Joseph Pugh, W. W. Gard, T. J. Evans, D. J. Price, R. L. Wilkinson, W. W. Davis, Mrs. Dundee, Mrs. Joseph Sprague.

Messrs. Hazel Altshool, Louise Norpell, Bertha Latimer, Mabel Jones, Pearl Mercer, Mabel Smucker, Rhea Ingler, Nina Webb.

Messrs. Walter Bainbridge, Chas. Ward, Leon Shinn, Raymond White, Gaylord Mercer, John Swartz, Albert Jones, Fair Adams, Sheldon Shepard, John Sherwood Fleck, Will Webb, Fredrick Wright, Will Webb.

The out-of-town guests were Miss Hazel Hart of Zanesville, Miss Mary E. McCall of Mt. Vernon, Misses Sarah Seymour, Helen Rae and Mrs. J. S. Jones, of Granville and Mr. G. E. Miller of Portland, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hoover entertained relatives at dinner Sunday at their home 122 West Locust street.

A very pleasant surprise was given Mr. Oliver Williams at his home in Madison Township, three miles southeast of Newark, on his forty-seventh birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in music and dancing. A very elaborate supper was served to the following guests:

Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Darnes, Carl Ritchey, Joseph Watson, Jackson Sherman, Edward Williams, Orville Williams, Carl Kenner, G. D. Miller, George Adams, Charles Tavenner, James Hunter, Alva Hazlett, Nicholas Youse, Ray Thompson, David Tavenner, and Thomas Davidson and Oliver Williams, Misses Edith Thompson, Mary, Harriet and Beulah Darnes, Helen and Edna Watson, Edythe Layman, Gladys Youse, Mary Emma Ritchey, Cora and Blanch Williams, Florence Hazlett, Olive and Esther Tavenner, Messrs. Stanley, Richard, Merlin, Edwin and John Albert Darnes, Paul Gregg, James Watson, Howard Stotter, Vernon George, Dorman and Orlo Ritchey, Owen and Richard Kenney, Aubrey Sherman, Arthur Clyde and Russell Williams, Anthony Hunter, Arthur Williams, Mildred Tavenner, and Arthur Davidson, and Theodore Williams.

As is its annual custom, the G. W. Bobb company, wholesale grocers, of Columbus, gave an elaborate banquet at the Athletic Club in Columbus Saturday evening for employees. Forty-eight were in attendance. Every person associated with the company was present.

Mr. Frederick E. Riegger, local representative, attended the banquet.

Mrs. Trevor Davies is entertaining the members of the Monday Evening Bridge Club this evening at her home in North Seventh street.

Miss Helen Taylor, of Cincinnati, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. field committee for Ohio and Virginia was the honor guest at a pretty appointed yellow and green luncheon on Saturday at the Association building. The table was centered with yellow tulips, and the guests were the officers of the board. Miss Taylor has just returned from a two years' trip abroad, which she spent in India and Japan. While there Miss Taylor was general secretary at Colombo for six months. The clubs were Mrs. J. B. Jones, Mrs. W. C. Miller, Mrs. Eugene Ball, Mrs. John Tucker, Mrs. A. S. Mitchell, Mrs. C. C. Webb, Mrs. Fred Evans, Mrs. E. V. Bower, Miss Louise Norpell, Mrs. Marietta Pierce, Miss Ada Berquist and Miss Katherine Childs.

The friends and neighbors of Mr. Glen Garlinghouse surprised him at his home in Boylston avenue, Saturday evening, it being his birthday anniversary.

Music, games and a contest were enjoyed during the evening. Mrs. C. A. Gault winning the prize in the contest. Mr. Garlinghouse was presented with a handsome rocker by the guests, and at a late hour delicious refreshments were served. The following: Messrs. and Mesdames C. A. Gault, Rolla DeWesse, Robert Nichols, Henry Andrews, Glen Garlinghouse, Misses Cora Osborn, Louise Andrews, Beulah Nichols, Ruth and Eva Timmons, and Luella Collins of Granville, and Frances Duffell and Eleanor Jones of Hebron, and Messrs. Howard Andrews, Owen Andrews, Desso and Ray Nichols.

Miss Lenna Hart entertained the W. E. W. Club at her home in Flory avenue Saturday afternoon.

After the business was transacted, broaching, social conversation and a lively contest was enjoyed. Miss Frances Rutledge being the lucky contestant.

A dainty lunch was served the members and one guest, Miss Frances Rutledge.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Mary Long in Wing street.

The members of the Sesame Club and a few guests were entertained at the home of Mrs. A. A. Gault, in Boylston avenue, Wednesday night. The afternoon was spent in needlework, while Mrs. Henry Froelich furnished several musical selections, and Miss Maria Trickey gave two readings, which were greatly enjoyed. Dainty refreshments were served to the members and guests, Mesdames Frank Aster, Robert Nichols, Rolla DeWesse, and Misses Mary Walker, Maria Trickey and Little Vivian Parker.

The club will meet March 8, with Mrs. Charles Haines, 296 Clinton street.

Goodin-Pletcher.

The wedding of Miss Ada Fletcher and Mr. Charles Goodin of Akron, was solemnized at the parsonage of the First M. E. church in North Fifth street on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the pastor, Dr. L. C. Sparks, officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Muna Pletcher, while the bridegroom's best man was Mr. Shelley Pletcher. Both the bride and her bridesmaid wore coats of blue cloth, and the bridal bouquet was a corsage arrangement of sweet peas and swainssona.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Pletcher, of North Pine street, while the bridegroom's parents formerly resided here but are now located in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodin left for Akron where they will make their future home.

clubs were Mrs. J. B. Jones, Mrs. W. C. Miller, Mrs. Eugene Ball, Mrs. John Tucker, Mrs. A. S. Mitchell, Mrs. C. C. Webb, Mrs. Fred Evans, Mrs. E. V. Bower, Miss Louise Norpell, Mrs. Marietta Pierce, Miss Ada Berquist and Miss Katherine Childs.

The friends and neighbors of Mr. Glen Garlinghouse surprised him at his home in Boylston avenue, Saturday evening, it being his birthday anniversary.

Music, games and a contest were enjoyed during the evening. Mrs. C. A. Gault winning the prize in the contest. Mr. Garlinghouse was presented with a handsome rocker by the guests, and at a late hour delicious refreshments were served. The following: Messrs. and Mesdames C. A. Gault, Rolla DeWesse, Robert Nichols, Henry Andrews, Glen Garlinghouse, Misses Cora Osborn, Louise Andrews, Beulah Nichols, Ruth and Eva Timmons, and Luella Collins of Granville, and Frances Duffell and Eleanor Jones of Hebron, and Messrs. Howard Andrews, Owen Andrews, Desso and Ray Nichols.

Miss Lenna Hart entertained the W. E. W. Club at her home in Flory avenue Saturday afternoon.

After the business was transacted, broaching, social conversation and a lively contest was enjoyed. Miss Frances Rutledge being the lucky contestant.

A dainty lunch was served the members and one guest, Miss Frances Rutledge.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Mary Long in Wing street.

The members of the Sesame Club and a few guests were entertained at the home of Mrs. A. A. Gault, in Boylston avenue, Wednesday night. The afternoon was spent in needlework, while Mrs. Henry Froelich furnished several musical selections, and Miss Maria Trickey gave two readings, which were greatly enjoyed. Dainty refreshments were served to the members and guests, Mesdames Frank Aster, Robert Nichols, Rolla DeWesse, and Misses Mary Walker, Maria Trickey and Little Vivian Parker.

The club will meet March 8, with Mrs. Charles Haines, 296 Clinton street.

Goodin-Pletcher.

The wedding of Miss Ada Fletcher and Mr. Charles Goodin of Akron, was solemnized at the parsonage of the First M. E. church in North Fifth street on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the pastor, Dr. L. C. Sparks, officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Muna Pletcher, while the bridegroom's best man was Mr. Shelley Pletcher. Both the bride and her bridesmaid wore coats of blue cloth, and the bridal bouquet was a corsage arrangement of sweet peas and swainssona.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Pletcher, of North Pine street, while the bridegroom's parents formerly resided here but are now located in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodin left for Akron where they will make their future home.

Goodin-Pletcher.

The wedding of Miss Ada Fletcher and Mr. Charles Goodin of Akron, was solemnized at the parsonage of the First M. E. church in North Fifth street on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the pastor, Dr. L. C. Sparks, officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Muna Pletcher, while the bridegroom's best man was Mr. Shelley Pletcher. Both the bride and her bridesmaid wore coats of blue cloth, and the bridal bouquet was a corsage arrangement of sweet peas and swainssona.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Pletcher, of North Pine street, while the bridegroom's parents formerly resided here but are now located in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodin left for Akron where they will make their future home.

Goodin-Pletcher.

The wedding of Miss Ada Fletcher and Mr. Charles Goodin of Akron, was solemnized at the parsonage of the First M. E. church in North Fifth street on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the pastor, Dr. L. C. Sparks, officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Muna Pletcher, while the bridegroom's best man was Mr. Shelley Pletcher. Both the bride and her bridesmaid wore coats of blue cloth, and the bridal bouquet was a corsage arrangement of sweet peas and swainssona.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Pletcher, of North Pine street, while the bridegroom's parents formerly resided here but are now located in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodin left for Akron where they will make their future home.

Goodin-Pletcher.

The wedding of Miss Ada Fletcher and Mr. Charles Goodin of Akron, was solemnized at the parsonage of the First M. E. church in North Fifth street on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the pastor, Dr. L. C. Sparks, officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Muna Pletcher, while the bridegroom's best man was Mr. Shelley Pletcher. Both the bride and her bridesmaid wore coats of blue cloth, and the bridal bouquet was a corsage arrangement of sweet peas and swainssona.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Pletcher, of North Pine street, while the bridegroom's parents formerly resided here but are now located in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodin left for Akron where they will make their future home.

Goodin-Pletcher.

The wedding of Miss Ada Fletcher and Mr. Charles Goodin of Akron, was solemnized at the parsonage of the First M. E. church in North Fifth street on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the pastor, Dr. L. C. Sparks, officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Muna Pletcher, while the bridegroom's best man was Mr. Shelley Pletcher. Both the bride and her bridesmaid wore coats of blue cloth, and the bridal bouquet was a corsage arrangement of sweet peas and swainssona.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Pletcher, of North Pine street, while the bridegroom's parents formerly resided here but are now located in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodin left for Akron where they will make their future home.

Goodin-Pletcher.

The wedding of Miss Ada Fletcher and Mr. Charles Goodin of Akron, was solemnized at the parsonage of the First M. E. church in North Fifth street on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the pastor, Dr. L. C. Sparks, officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Muna Pletcher, while the bridegroom's best man was Mr. Shelley Pletcher. Both the bride and her bridesmaid wore coats of blue cloth, and the bridal bouquet was a corsage arrangement of sweet peas and swainssona.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Pletcher, of North Pine street, while the bridegroom's parents formerly resided here but are now located in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodin left for Akron where they will make their future home.

Goodin-Pletcher.

The wedding of Miss Ada Fletcher and Mr. Charles Goodin of Akron, was solemnized at the parsonage of the First M. E. church in North Fifth street on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the pastor, Dr. L. C. Sparks, officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Muna Pletcher, while the bridegroom's best man was Mr. Shelley Pletcher. Both the bride and her bridesmaid wore coats of blue cloth, and the bridal bouquet was a corsage arrangement of sweet peas and swainssona.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Pletcher, of North Pine street, while the bridegroom's parents formerly resided here but are now located in Columbus.

Personal

Paul Weaver is helping Wm. Rupert this week at Smith's drug store.

Mrs. E. E. Newell of Point Marion, Pa., is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. B. Evans, in Third street.

Miss Elsie Bland left at noon for a visit at Akron after having been a guest of Miss Mina Hohl and Miss Green for the past week. Before returning to her home at Lima, O., she will visit her father, Col. William Bland, who is taking treatment at Magnetic Springs.

Mrs. T. B. McCormack and daughter Mary of Zanesville were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John Goff, in West Main street.

G. E. Miller of Portland, Oregon, spent Saturday and Sunday here the guest of Bell Netz of Canton, O., is the guest of Mrs. L. M. Smith in North First street. Mrs. Netz is en route to Oakwood, Ill., and will only remain here a few days.

Mr. George Stewart, employed at the Firestone Tire Co., in Akron, visited over Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stewart in Eddy street.

Mrs. William Kerrigan of St. Louisville, was the guest of Newark friends and relatives on Sunday.

Alfred Skinner of Columbus, is looking after business interests in the city today.

Frank Coulter of Columbus, was the guest of friends in Newark on Sunday.

Misses Elizabeth Devlin of North Morris street, and Miss Clara Copeland of Maple avenue, have returned home after spending a week with friends in Bucyrus and Columbus.

Mrs. Leo Toole of Niagara Falls, formerly Miss Gertrude Koos, is visiting at the Koos home in Pearl street.

Miss Myrtle Phillips, employed at the W. H. Macey Co., has returned to work after spending two weeks at her home, north of the city.

Miss Myrtle Gotshall of Mt. Vernon, was the guest of Miss Pearl Mercer of North Sixth street, over Sunday.

Misses Elizabeth Schick and Ruth Braden have returned home after spending two weeks in Akron.

A. R. Lindorf, of the Meyer & Lindorf store, has returned from New York, where he spent two weeks purchasing spring stock.

Miss Hazel Hart was the guest over Saturday of Miss Louise Norpell of Granville street.

Mrs. J. G. Wolfe of Columbus, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Davis, of Ninth street.

Miss Jennie Smith, the noted railroad evangelist, left for Pittsburgh at noon today. She was accompanied to Wheeling by Mrs. F. M. Howard.

Miss Bessie Imhoff has returned home after a five-weeks' visit in New York, Philadelphia and Paterson, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Connell of Sandusky, are spending a couple of weeks with relatives at 188 Hudson avenue.

Homer Glancy and Nelson Metz were the guests of friends at Columbus Sunday, and were entertained at dinner at the Elmhurst in East Broad street.

Mrs. Wm. J. Fitzgibbon is spending a week in Columbus as the guest of Miss Mildred Myers.

Mrs. Earl Swern went to Columbus this morning to meet her sister, Mrs. John Cledemund and niece, Alwilda Cledemund from Gallop, Ohio, will come to Newark for a week's visit with relatives.

STUDENT HELD FOR MURDER OF LAMBERT GIRL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Lake Forest, Ill., Feb. 28.—Will H. Orpet, a University of Wisconsin student, charged with the murder of Marian Frances Lambert, a Lake Forest high school student, waived preliminary examination before a justice of peace today. The case will go before the March grand jury. Orpet entered a plea of not guilty and was held without bail to the grand jury.

WILLIS NAMES NEWTON MILLER TO $2,400 JOB

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Lake Forest, Ill., Feb. 28.—Will H. Orpet, a University of Wisconsin student, charged with the murder of Marian Frances Lambert, a Lake Forest high school student, waived preliminary examination before a justice of peace today. The case will go before the March grand jury. Orpet entered a plea of not guilty and was held without bail to the grand jury.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Lake Forest, Ill., Feb. 28.—The bodies of eight sailors and the captain of the Wilson liner Dido, which was sunk on Feb. 26, were washed ashore today at Donna Hook, Lincolnshire.

The Dido, a vessel of 4,769 tons gross, carried a crew of 29 men. The first reports of her sinking said that the captain and two of the crew had been landed by a Belgian steamer.

Sediment carried to sea by the Amazon River can be detected 100 miles from the coast.

In some parts of Switzerland granite is so plentiful that it is used for telegraph poles.

YOUR BRONCHIAL TUBES

When a cold settles in the bronchial tubes, with that weakening, tickling cough, immediate treatment is very important. The breath seems shorter because of mucous obstructions; usually feverish present, your head jars with every cough and your chest may ache. This is no time for experimenting or delay—you must get Scott's Emulsion at once to drive out the cold which started the trouble, and it will check the cough by aiding the healing process of the enfeebled membranes.

If you have any symptoms of bronchitis, or even a stubborn cold, always remember that Scott's Emulsion has been relieving this trouble for forty years. It is free from alcohol or drugs. Refuse substitutes.

Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 15-25

Alaska's Verdant Islands.

The island of Attu, at the end of the Aleutian chain, is not far from Asia. From north to south Alaska reaches almost as far as from Canada to Mexico.

This mighty territory is a world in the variety of its lands and waters. It is a country of seas, lakes and rivers and of almost as many islands as the empire of Japan. It has a vast continental mainland, with mountains and valleys, rolling plateaus and great lowland plains. I traveled a thousand miles through rocky islands in going from Seattle to Skagway and later passed through the Aleutian archipelago, which extends from the end of the Alaskan peninsula about as far westward as the distance from the Atlantic ocean to the Mississippi river. The island of Kodiak is as big as Porto Rico, and Prince of Wales island is as large as Connecticut. All of these islands are green from one year's end to the other, and some have a vegetation as dense as that of Hawaii.—Christian Herald.

Novel Use For Gunpowder.

"Early in the sixties of the last century," writes Rev. Fuller Mills, a Welsh clergyman, "I was a boy behind the counter of what was known as the company's shop at Abertillery. Among the collier customers who came to the shop was a tall, well developed man known as Dick Stevens or Stephens."

"He was a member of the prize ring or the pugilistic fraternity, which was very popular in those days. . . . Dick Stevens was matched to fight Ianto Catcham and was preparing for the fight when he came to the shop for his weekly requirements. . . . He generally asked for an ounce or two of gunpowder. I wondered at this, and my curiosity was aroused."

"I asked what he used it for. His reply was: 'I mix it with my gravy when I have my dinner and swallow it. It prevents the flesh from easily puffing under the hard blows of an opponent. The cuts and bruises are not so hurtful and heal more easily.'"

The Gentle Art of Smiling.

A mother had a little girl, her first child, who seemed to have been born with a scowl. Perfectly well, still she had a morose disposition which it seemed as though nothing could alter. When a second child was born the mother made a rule that no one should look at the baby without a smile. With the limitation of childhood the baby at once began, even in her early weeks, to smile back, and as she grew, and the rule still held in the home, she developed into what every one who knew her called "the smiling baby" and grew up with the sunniest disposition, a joy to every one. Now, what that mother did any mother can do. A child may actually inherit a serious, even a sullen disposition, yet these may be crowded out while they are undeveloped by the habit of cheerfulness.—Woman's Home Companion.

Awry.

"Wat ees eet zat means your English word 'awry'?" asked the French girl, newly landed on these shores.

"Whr," replied the walking dictionary, "it means crooked, disheveled. If my hat is awry it's tipped on one side, or if you apply it to my necktie it means mussed up. In what connection do you hear it?"

But she was frowning violently and muttering: "Ah-h! Zat beast! I was sure he meant to insult, but nevair did I believe eet was so bad!"

"Why, what on earth happened to you?"

"I ride in ze tram. I say to ze conductor, 'Please to say to me wen we stop at ze Forty-second street.' And he smile at me so—and he say to me, 'A' rrr!'"—New York Post.

Teeth of a Shark.

In respect to its dentition the shark is a very remarkable creature. The white shark has seven rows of teeth, while other species vary in the number of rows they possess. It must be understood, however, that the shark only uses one row at a time. The other rows lie down inside the mouth behind the edge of the jaw, erecting themselves when it is time for them to take successively the place of the first row. When one observes how keen edged these incisors are it seems no wonder that they can bite off a big rope as readily as if it were thread.

Light Reading.

"Do you read much?" she asked of him.

"A great deal," he replied. "But it's mostly light reading."

And when some one told her that he read gas meters for a living she gnashed her teeth in wild but helpless indignation.—London Telegraph.

Poor Fare.

"What came before the literary club this afternoon, my love?" asked Mr. Dibble at dinner.

"Oh, 'The Merchant of Venice' and some of the worst sandwiches I ever ate," answered Mrs. Dibble.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

They Were More Accurate.

"Did Hammett make a hit when he appeared on the stage?"

"No, but some of those in the audience displayed excellent marksmanship."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

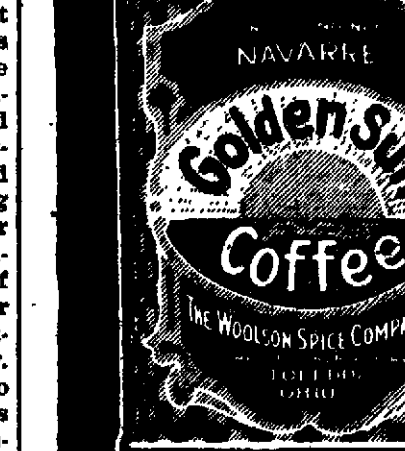

Ignorance.

Mrs. Stubbins—Do you like codfish balls, Mr. Fox? The New Ledger—I don't know, Mrs. Stubbins. I never attended any.—London Tid-Bits.

Contentment. as it is a short road and pleasant, has great delight and little trouble.—Epictetus.

Cholock waterfall, Yosemite, is 2,364 feet high.

Golden Sun Coffee

THE WOOLSON SPICE CO. TOLEDO, OHIO

Start the Day Off With a Smile

There's more real pleasure in a cup of piping hot Golden Sun Coffee than mere words can describe.

All the claims of other coffees are really in Golden Sun. Try one pound—it's captivating.

THE WOOLSON SPICE CO. Toledo Ohio

Our Boys and Girls

Every mother should learn to use a clinical thermometer and when the child is old enough it should be taught to hold it in its mouth. This is as important as to teach a child to take medicine or to open its throat for inspection. The knowledge of the height of a child's fever will often obviate the presence of a nurse or extra visits from the doctor.

If a child seems ailing without definite symptoms, the mother, by using this thermometer, can judge for herself if a physician's presence is necessary. On the other hand a sudden rise of temperature must not be considered alarming, although attention must be given to it at once, for a child jumps into a high fever for a very slight cause sometimes. It is only if the fever continues that it becomes grave cause for alarm.

The Sick.

The children of Charles Dudgeon of West Newark, who have been quite ill, are now improving.

W. L. Griffith has returned to his work at the W. H. Macey Co., after being seriously ill.

Joseph Nelson was removed in the Bradley ambulance from his home 93 Union street to the Newark Sanitarium, Saturday.

Miss Pearl McKinney was removed in the Bradley ambulance from the City Hospital to her home, 26 North Williams street Sunday.

Mrs. C. D. Wilkin, who is recovering following treatment at the City Hospital was removed to her home 32 Hancock street Sunday in the Bradley ambulance.

Frederick Cross of Granville street who was so seriously ill following an operation for appendicitis is now able to be out.

AMERICAN CABLES

HE WAS RESCUED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Topeka, Kans., Feb. 28.—Ralph Foster, son of Rev. Festus Foster of Topeka, a passenger aboard the steamship Maloja, which struck a mine and sank off Dover yesterday (sailed his parents today he had been rescued unhurt.

Foster is a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, but had been given a year's leave of absence to enter army Y. M. C. A. work. He was enroute for Egypt to join Y. M. C. A. workers in the army there.

RUSSIAN STEAMER SUNK; 15 SAVED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Feb. 28 (10:01 a. m.)—The Russian steamship Petshenga has been sunk. Fifteen of those aboard were saved.

The Strange Case of MARY PAGE

The Great McClure Mystery Story. Written by FREDERICK LEWIS in Collaboration With JOHN T. MINTYRE, Author of the Ashton
Kirk Detective Stories. Read the Story and See the Essayay Moving Pictures

Copyright, 1915, by McClure Publication

First Episode

MARY'S DEFENSE

AS Philip Langdon's car threaded its way through the heavy traffic, dodging drays and clamorous trolleys on its way toward the grim building where so many tragedies are staged by "the law" the young attorney felt his heart sink into engulfing waves of doubt and fear.

For the first time since the beginning of the trial he had lost his buoyant hope, his tremendous faith in his ability to prove Mary Page innocent and it need be to snatch her from a cell by the sheer power of his love.

The evidence was so overwhelming, so irrefutable. And Mary herself utterly unable to explain those last tragic moments. He knew she couldn't remember—couldn't explain. But the jury would not be convinced. He realized that.

Over and over in his brooding mind he saw again the tragedy of that night when the body of James Pollock, the clubman and wine agent, had been found with a bullet in its heart and beside it the unconscious figure of Mary Page. Between them had lain that revolver with its one accusatory empty chamber, the revolver that Mary herself admitted she had carried.

That Mary was innocent he had never doubted. His love was too great to admit of doubt, but he was a lawyer, and now he saw only too clearly that his defense might prove unconvincing in the face of the damning facts—first, that Mary had hated and feared James Pollock, who forced his attentions upon her; second, that she had carried the revolver hidden in the front of her dress when she went into the anteroom where Pollock was waiting, and, third, that the shooting had occurred directly after the door had closed upon the two of them.

If he, Langdon, had only been five minutes earlier—that was the acid that ate into his soul. If he had only reached that door five minutes sooner perhaps that fatal shot would never have been fired.

He wondered irritably why it was that the public, and that portion of it that comprised the jury, couldn't see how improbable it was that Mary would have ruined her career in such a fashion, however much she hated Pollock. It was inconceivable that a girl who at the falling of the curtain at 11 o'clock had touched the goal for which she had striven and been hailed as the greatest star of the century could have killed a man of her own accord at midnight and watched the dawn come from a cell in the Tombs.

He knew how much her career had meant to Mary. How close to her heart was the triumph and the fame, and to lose it this way—

He sighed heavily, then, realizing that they were approaching the Tombs and that to the world at least he must be the confident attorney, he straightened his shoulders and forced a smile to his lips.

Close to the curb two women were listening while a third read aloud from the early edition of an afternoon paper, stippling the monotony of her tones by ejaculations and questions.

From his car Langdon could plainly see the huge headlines two women were reading:

LOVER'S LAST FIGHT FOR LIFE.

State's Case Against Famous Actress Almost Complete—Young Lawyer Fights Final Hopeless Battle.

With a shudder of aversion Langdon dragged his eyes away. The notoriety of it was almost as bitter to him as the awful overshadowing fear. He hated to think that Mary's name should be dragged in the mud of common gossip as an actress who had shot a millionaire in the anteroom of a huge hotel, while just outside the door, amid laughter and music and lights, the great world indulged in supper dancing. He hated the thought that his love for Mary had become a spiny morsel to be rolled on the tongues of the general public, but, after all, what he had to bear was pitifully small compared to the burden on Mary's own slim shoulders.

The car drew up at the curb, and as Langdon leaped out somebody shouted harshly:

"Here's Langdon!" And the whole throng of men and women came surging toward him, sweeping him into the current of a wave of humanity. Jostling and staring, they swung a thousand questions at him, pulled at his arms and pressed against him until at last the impregnable doors clanged behind him, leaving him breathless with a feeling of being bruised and battered mentally as well as physically.

The quiet of the prison was almost like peace for the moment, but he knew that beyond that pool of silence in which he stood another clamorous throng surged about the door of the court and filled the room itself—thousands of them, some men and many women, voracious for sensation, glutted with the lure of this tremendous tragedy that was being played for them by living puppets. The law had indeed discovered the secret that every theatrical manager sighs to know—"what the public wants."

With a word or two to the officials, Langdon went hurriedly down the echoing corridors to Mary's cell; past row after row of monotonous barred doors, from behind which faces peered out with idle curiosity—faces, savage, despairing, dull with indifference or ravaged by tears. But they meant nothing to Langdon, for heart and brain alike were speeding on ahead of him to that distant narrow room where Mary waited.

At the cell door he halted and quickly removed his hat, unbidden tears springing to his eyes, for Mary was kneeling like a little child, her head in her mother's lap, and the elder woman was praying aloud:

"And God give us strength to go through this day and grant justice to this, my child!"

"Justice, dear God, justice!" echoed Mary. And no artistry of the great actress could have given to that simple prayer the poignancy that a great faith and a great sorrow gave to it.

Then they spied Langdon, and Mary, jumping up, gave a cry of joy and ran into his arms. He held her tightly, and the actress in her would have applauded if she had known the effort that lay back of his tender greeting, his word of hope and the tender smile with which he put into her hand white roses to pin against her dark frock.

"I think we had better go on into court now," he said as she drew the blossoms through her belt. "The men are waiting, and it's about time, you know."

For an instant Mary shuddered and clung to him with closed eyes.

"If I could only be there without going across that awful bridge," she sighed. "Somehow the people are less terrible when they are sitting down and keeping quiet."

"I know, dear, I know," said Langdon sadly. "I wish to God I could spare you, but it's really only their way of expressing sympathy, and I'll give you a happy thought to say to yourself when you cross today. Just look straight ahead and say over and over: 'Today Philip begins my defense. Today we will begin to prove my innocence.'"

"Then you think"—cried Mrs. Page.

"The state will undoubtedly rest its case this morning," he answered gravely. "Our chance is coming now."

"Oh, then I shan't mind anything," cried Mary and, kissing him, lifted her lovely head.

And now the end was almost come. The last witness for the state was called to the stand, and Langdon drew a deep breath. Unless some one was called in rebuttal he knew that now the final stone was to be laid in that carefully built tower of evidence against Mary Page.

"If I could only be there without going across that awful bridge."

The police had sworn that they saw Mary threaten James Pollock with a revolver in the park that afternoon. Employees of the theater had testified to her fear of his attentions; her own maid had been forced to admit with faltering tongue that her mistress had cried out that he was a devil, and she wished he was dead. Waiters and innumerable patrons of the Hotel Republic, revelling in the publicity, had told gleefully of having seen Mary Page, drunk apparently, reel from the cafe on the night of the murder and go directly to the anteroom where James Pollock was waiting. And now the last man on the stand—the hotel detective who, together with Langdon himself, had found the dead man with his living but unconscious companion.

The monotonous questions of name and age and occupation were rattled off swiftly enough, and then the detective, with the ease of one used to testimony, gave a brief resume of how he had first been called by the head waiter, to whom complaints had been made of the riotous behavior of a big supper party from one of the theaters.

"We found Mary Page lying in a faint."

"It was a pretty noisy bunch," he said coolly. "But they didn't seem to be doing any harm, so I just stood at the door watching them, and presently James Pollock came in."

"He was in evening dress," he continued, "and he called a bellhop and gave him a message, pointing out the young lady who was sitting at the head of the table with the noisy party."

"Was that young lady Miss Page?" asked the district attorney, indicating Mary with a jerk of his head.

"It was," said the detective firmly.

"Then Mr. Pollock went down to what we call the little gray room and, going in, shut the door. The bellhop started into the dining room, but almost before he'd taken a step the young lady, Miss Page, threw her wineglass on the floor with a hysterical sort of laugh and came reeling out of the room with her hands stretched out, as if she didn't know where she was going."

"I turned away to call one of the maids to take charge of her, and when I came back she was making straight for the gray room, walking as firmly as if she'd never had a drink in her life. She went in and shut the door, and a minute afterward Mr. Langdon there comes flying out of the cafe and shouts:

"Which way did Miss Page go?"

"In the gray room," I answered, and with that he ran toward it, with me beside him, but before we got there we heard a shot, and—" He paused, enjoying to the full the sensation of the moment and the tense whispering wave of sound that quivered through the crowded room. "When we had broken in the door we found James Pollock shot through the heart and Mary Page lying in a faint beside him with a revolver not six inches from the ends of her fingers."

Mary, who had been watching him as if fascinated, quailed from that curt, almost vindictive, description of the finding of the bodies of the living and the dead, and, resting her arms on the edge of the dock, she buried her face in them and for the first time sobbed bitterly.

A murmur of sympathy arose, and several people stood up, only to be rudely pushed back into their seats by those behind. And now the district attorney, going to the grewsome array of "exhibits" in the case, picked up the revolver and, showing it to the jury, put it into the detective's hands.

"Is this the revolver," he demanded dramatically, "and is the prisoner the woman whom you found locked in the room with the dead body of James Pollock?"

"Yes," answered the detective. And at the word the pencils of the reporters began to spin like mad across the flooring yellow of their copy paper, and a gasp of dismay wrung from some woman's throat faded into a stifled sob.

One of the jurors blew his nose loudly, and two or three exchanged significant glances, and Langdon, the sweet beginning to bead his forehead, knew that they had already made up their minds that Mary was guilty.

The detective, released, stepped down from the witness box, and now the district attorney turned smilingly to the judge and said, with an oratorical flourish:

"Your honor, the state rests!"

The last stone in that brutal gallow of evidence had been cemented into place.

Four excited and self-important office boys scuffled out of the room bearing sheets on which was scrawled:

"State rests its case after evidence of Detective Farley." And through the open door as they went came a murmur like the distant roar of wild beasts, the unadmitted public clamoring for the news borne by the boys en route for the newspaper offices.

But when the door closed again a tense silence held the room in thrall. Even Mary's sobs had ceased, and, lifting her tear stained face, she smiled rainbow wise at Langdon, as if she would have said: "Now is our chance! Now we will tear down this awful temple of doom that has been built for me!"

Langdon drew a deep breath, flung back his shoulders as if breasting a tremendous current and said quietly:

"Your honor and gentlemen of the jury, you have heard the case against Mary Page. Now listen to the case for Mary Page."

"She has declared herself that she has no recollection of those final moments in that hotel room to which she had been lured by a miserable beast. She remembers only a flash—like a dream—of his leering face, and then blackness swept over her. Gentlemen, it is not the first time that Miss Page has been affected in that same fashion. And if Mary Page killed James Pollock she did it in a moment of insanity superinduced by the horror of intoxication that has pursued her since the day she was born."

As with one accord the jury sat up and leaned forward in their seats, and onlookers broke out into a sudden babble, in which the word "insane" bobbed like a cork on a sea of rumor, and not even the judge's gavel could secure silence for several moments. In that time the color crept back into Mary's cheeks, and somehow she felt deep in her heart that the tide of feeling at least was turned again in her direction.

The district attorney was frowning and whispering to his assistant, who nodded from time to time as he nervously fingered the pile of papers in front of him, but now Langdon was speaking again:

"It is my intention, your honor and gentlemen of the jury, to show you step by step through this girl's life the part which that horror of intoxication has played, a horror that has entangled her in this mesh of tragedy. I shall call as my first witness Mary Page."

It came as an overwhelming surprise, this calling of Mary to her own defense, and, although she strove to be calm, she was obviously startled and afraid, and wave after wave of excitement swept through the room.

At the reporters' table one "sob sister" whispered to the other:

"Poor thing! She can't stand much more. It's wicked to call on her."

"Miss Page," said Langdon, and his voice was very gentle, "isn't it true that because of a strong prenatal influence you were born with an unnatural horror of intoxication?"

"It is true," sighed Mary, but in an instant the district attorney was on his feet.

"I object," he cried. "That question concerns something that took place before Miss Page's birth. She can—she must, in fact—know it only by hearsay."

"I must sustain your objection," said the judge. "Mr. Langdon, your question was unfortunately worded. Can you alter it?"

"I think I can," said Langdon. "Let us put it this way: What is your earliest recollection of your father?"

"I object to that also!" stormed the district attorney. "It is not relevant. What have a child's vague recollections to do with the action of a woman of Miss Page's age?"

The judge hesitated, and Langdon, still smiling, said quickly:

"I withdraw my question. The witness is excused."

"Do you wish to cross examine?" asked the judge, and the district attorney, with a scowl, shook his head.

"Are—are you through with me?" gasped Mary in bewilderment, and Langdon nodded. And now, as the throng waited, he turned to the little gray haired mother, and his voice rang out (was it with triumph?):

"Mrs. Page!"

In an instant the room was in an uproar. More copy boys rushed for the door bearing flapping sheets covered with scrawled, disjointed words, and the onlookers, who had so far considered Mrs. Page as merely a "prop," a bit of the setting in this gripping tragedy, now scrambled up on to their seats to gaze at her. In vain the judge thundered with his gavel, and in vain the police shoved back the spectators and even thrust one or two belligerent ones out into the corridor, where they were welcomed with a roar from the waiting. The noise did not subside until curiosity had been satiated.

"Mrs. Page, how long ago was it that you met your husband, Daniel Page?"

"Thirty-one years ago at Christmas," she said softly, and the district attorney leaned forward scowling, waiting to leap at the first irrelevant question.

"And you became engaged almost at once, did you not?" The question and the answer were equally quiet.

"Yes."

"But you were not married for some time?"

"No." The gentle old voice shook now, and a faint flush crept into the thin cheeks.

"Why?" The question snapped sharply, but her answer was long in coming.

"Because," she said at last. "I found that Dan drank, and I—I said I would not marry a man like—that."

"But you did later on?"

"Yes," she continued. "He promised me that he would stop, and I believed—God knows a woman always believes that—from a man."

"Please make only direct answers to the questions," broke in the judge sternly. But some woman in the back of the room said aloud:

"That's the truth she's speaking. Let her say it."

"Silence!" commanded the judge. And now Langdon said:

"Will you tell us as concisely as possible of what happened after your marriage?"

For a long time it seemed as if she could not go on, and Mary leaned toward her, whispering softly:

"Oh, mother—mother, darling!" But as if the words were a draft of encouragement Mrs. Page took up the thread of her story.

"What happened," she said wearily, "is what happened to thousands of women. We hadn't been married very long before my husband began to drink again. The first night he came home really drunk was the night I had planned to tell him that Mary was coming to us from God. I don't think I shall ever forget the horror of that time. And all the while that I was making ready for her he was making my inability to go out with him an excuse for debauch."

"Oh, your honor," and now she turned to the judge, "it's no wonder my child is full of the fear of drink. For night after night I walked the floor, and I prayed like a wicked woman that my baby might die before it came into the world—because I was afraid it would bear the taint—would be born with that awful devastating thirst!"

More than one man in the room, and indeed, more than one of the jurors moved uneasily at the words, quietly spoken, but pregnant with tragedy.

"On the night that Mary was born," she went on, "Dan was too drunk to even be told—that he had a daughter."

A murmur of sympathy crept through the room, and one voice could be heard distinctly:

"Oh, well, that's not unusual. Most men do—becastly drunk."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

"I felt then," said Mrs. Page tenderly, "that it didn't matter. I had my baby, and I was too full of happy dreams for her future to fear for the present."

"Somehow," Mrs. Page continued, "the years passed, and Mary reached sixteen, but each of those increasing years had increased her fear of drunkenness. She was even afraid of her father, and because we were too poor for her to have pretty clothes she

was ashamed to wear them."

FOREIGNERS

REPRESENTING 33 NATIONS, EMERGE AMERICAN CITIZENS FROM "MELTING-POT"

Receiving Diplomas—Great Pageant Staged at Detroit at Henry Ford's Expense.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.)
Detroit, Mich., Feb. 28.—In a pageant staged at the Detroit armory, Sunday afternoon, 512 foreigners, in old-world dress, representing 33 nations, filed out of the steeple of an ocean liner and into an enormous "melting-pot." Later they emerged out of the "melting-pot" wearing American clothes and carrying American flags.

The occasion was the first public graduation ceremony of students who have taken the eight months' course of English and good citizenship offered by the Ford Motor company to all its foreign-born employees.

After listening to addresses by Judge Arthur J. Tuttle of the United States district court, the Rev. S. S. Marquis and others, the graduates were given diplomas, which set forth that the recipients can read, write and speak good English, and are entitled to first naturalization papers without further examination.

Granville

(Special to Advocate.)
Granville, O., February 28.—The scarlet fever bogey is laid to rest, a council of physicians after careful examination made after the proper time had elapsed, reports that there is not a case of scarlet fever in Denison. The "suspects" were found to be suffering from tonsillitis and have been treated accordingly. Great relief is felt at this information, and students will go about their duties with renewed energy.

Denison university is said to have the largest class in Italian of any college in America, a statement which is backed by strong testimony. Mr. McVay of Holt and Co., who that there were more Italian grammars sent to Denison than to any other college, and Prof. Odebrecht says that less than a dozen take Italian in the University of Chicago. Why this course seems so popular in Denison is not known, unless its popularity may be attributed to the way in which it is taught here. Prof. Odebrecht is an accomplished linguist and a real live wire in his department, a fact which must have an effect on the classes which he teaches.

Interest in the meetings in the Methodist church is increasing daily. The church was crowded for both services on Sunday, and two splendid sermons were delivered by the pastor, Rev. Otto Giesen. The evening sermon was illustrated by a picture of our savior as the Good Shepherd seeking the lost sheep. Special music enriched the services, notably the soprano solo by Mrs. Roy Morrow, which was the "Prayer," written by Brock editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, music by Joseph Hoffman. It was most effective, and made a deep impression on the congregation. The children's choir sang in the evening. Meetings will continue during the week, with several of the sermons illustrated. Mr. Wilbur A. Miles of Columbus, will take charge of the singing this evening and remain during the remainder of the week. A cordial invitation is extended for any or all of these services.

In his sermon in the Baptist church Sunday morning Rev. Millard Brelsford called attention to the "Five Year Program of the Northern Baptist convention adopted at Los Angeles, May 27, 1915, and since revised in a way to relate it immediately to every Baptist church and every Baptist family. The program reads:

1. A million additions to our churches by baptism.
2. A missionary force of 500 men and women in America and the non-Christian world.
3. Two million dollars endowment for the ministers' and missionaries' benefit board.
4. Student pastors in twenty-five universities, 1000 Baptist students in theological seminaries, 15,000 in colleges and universities, and $6,000,000 for additional educational endowment and equipment at home and abroad.
5. An annual income of $5,000,000 for missions and benevolence.

Rev. W. E. Hopkins gave an illustrated address in the Baptist church last evening before a large and interested audience. His subject was "India," and he spoke from the richness of his own experience in that land. The pictures were beautiful, and gave added interest to the talk. The meeting was in charge of the B. Y. P. U., and the offering was a vocal solo, "Ashamed of Jesus," by Ambrose, and sung with fine expression by Mr. Nelson Rupp. For the morning service the offering was a contralto solo, sung by Miss Blanche La Ferre. Sullivan's "The Lost Chorus," and a fine vehicle for her splendid voice and finished art. Miss La Ferre's voice is most effective in its lower register.

The King's Daughters' sale of rugs, aprons and home baking on Saturday afternoon was so generously patronized that in less than 15 minutes after the sale began there was hardly a scrap of food left. Aprons and rugs also were in brisk demand.

On Friday afternoon, February 25, Mrs. Helen Hunt delightfully entertained 25 ladies at an afternoon needle party at her home in Park drive.

The ladies of the D. A. R. entertained their husbands and friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Aust on Saturday evening, and a good time was reported.

Miss Millard Brelsford is entertaining her sister, Miss Estella Carhart of Coshocton, for a few days.

President C. W. Chamberlain and Rev. Millard Brelsford are in Chicago attending the annual meeting of the Religious Education Association. Later in the week they will attend the Columbus convention.

Don't forget the lecture in the Granville opera house at eight o'clock this evening, the first in the series on "Heredit in Plants and Animals" to be given by Prof. H. D. Fish, who has made a study of the subject under the highest authority in the country. Everybody is invited. No fee required.

Sigma Chi fraternity had as guests for Sunday dinner, Prof. and Mrs. A. M. Brumback, Miss Anna Brumback, Mrs. Putnam, Miss Blanche Putnam and Mr. F. F. Murray.

The funeral services of Mrs. Susan Baldwin Wilson were held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the family residence on the Lancaster road. Rev. Millard Brelsford officiating. Mrs. Wilson was 93 years old, and for eighty years she was a member of a Baptist church, having brought her letter to the Granville Baptist church in 1881. For several years she has been an invalid and her death on Saturday was not unexpected by her family. She is survived by three children, Miss Mary Wilson, whose devotion has been unremitting during many years past, and two sons, Joseph and Frank Wilson, both of Granville. Interment was made in Maple Grove cemetery.

TOMORROW IS BICYCLE DAY. SAYS MR. WYETH

"February 29th has been set apart all over the country by bicycle manufacturers, jobbers and dealers as Bicycle Day," says C. E. Wyeth, and "right here in Newark we expect it to be a big day, with results that will be felt all the year."

"The statement that close to half a million bicycles were made and sold in 1915 may be a surprise to some people. Yet it is absolutely true. The bicycle industry is neither dead, nor even sleeping, and the slogan of the trade now is 'A Million Bicycles in 1916'."

"Careful investigation shows that even in the so-called 'boom bicycle days' not more than three quarters of a million bicycles were sold. That was some fifteen years ago. The increase of population and many other factors make the bicycle market much larger today than then. Bicycles cost less, and are better today than ever, for riding for pleasure. The services they perform, economically and well in business, are more numerous than ever. The Great American Boy is as great as bicycle enthusiasts as he ever was."

SEX KNOWLEDGE IS CHILDREN'S RIGHT, SAYS EVANGELIST

The West Side revival continues to draw large crowds and the interest still grows. Yesterday was a full day for the evangelist and his wife. The large auditorium of the Methodist church was almost filled with women in the afternoon to hear Mrs. MacDonald while the church of Christ auditorium was filled with men to hear the evangelist speak to men only.

At the close of the services at the First church in Fourth street, Saturday evening, there were ten baptisms.

At the Men's Meeting, forests are insected, hogs and cattle are protected while boys are neglected. If you do not tell your boy the pure truth—some one else will tell him vulgar, lies. Three-fourths of the children today learn wrong, impure sex knowledge before the age of ten.

If you do not tell your children the story of life the devil will tell them the story of death. Ignorance is not innocence. The child of today has a right to pure sex knowledge. The child of the future has a right to be well born. We need to study the laws of parent-hood as well as how to raise plants and animals. We reap what we sow. 8000 babies born blind every year. One-third of the babies born die in infancy. 97 per cent of animals are perfect physically. Only 51 per cent of babies are without deformities of mind or body. Ignorance causes many a child to be precocious into this world. The four influences in life are, heredity, environment, will power, and God's grace. What can God's grace do for the man who is an idiot. We need regeneration physically.

It is not better divorce laws we need but stricter marriage laws. A few years ago a boy and a girl were in two state institutions in Columbus, O., they were subnormal but were permitted to leave and help earn their living. They afterwards married. Now 21 of their descendants are in our state institutions to be kept by taxes. And yet the laws of Ohio permitted such to get a marriage license. When the devil ties people together the divorce court is their only salvation.

When parents teach children what they should know about purity, and the law demand health certificates of pure blood before marriage there will be fewer divorces.

Christ wants to save from falling as well as to save the fallen.

Announcements.

Subject of sermon tonight, "The Unpardonable Sin." Don't miss it. Children's meeting 3:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Song service at 7 p. m. each evening this week.

Lent will begin a week from Wednesday, March 8, and will end with Easter Sunday, April 12. It will be observed by special meetings at a number of the local churches.

AIR RAID

UPON ENGLAND DID GREAT DAMAGE ACCORDING TO BERLIN REPORT.

British Deny Claim That Three Ships Were Sunk With Loss of Life.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.)
Berlin, Feb. 28.—(By Wire) to Sayville)—On the occasion of the last Zeppelin raid over England two government factories and two ammunition factories at Birmingham and one ammunition factory near Bradford, were destroyed by bombs.

The news agent's statement which supplements the account given out yesterday of the damage done by the airship attack on England on the night of Jan. 31-Feb. 1, follows:

"At Birmingham, two government factories and two ammunition factories were destroyed. One brewery was damaged at Eccles Hill. Near Bradford one ammunition factory and three spinning mills were wrecked. At Partington one bomb destroyed 22 houses.

On the Humber, a battery was silenced, the cannon and searchlights being destroyed. At Grimsby and in the vicinity of Hull considerable damage was done which was also the case at Sheffield. The cruiser Caroline and the destroyers Eden and Nith were sunk. The Caroline sank in six minutes, 31 members of the crew being killed, 58 wounded, and 47 drowned."

A Berlin dispatch on Feb. 10 said that the three warships mentioned had been sunk during the Zeppelin raid. This was denied by the British government which stated that neither the Caroline nor any other British warship, nor any merchant ship was struck by a bomb.

The capture of Navarin farm in the Champagne was announced by the war office today.

French positions on both sides of Navarin farm over a front of about 1600 yards were taken. It is said more than 1000 men and nine machine guns were captured.

In the Verdun region fresh French reserves were exhausted in fruitless efforts against Fort Douaumont. The German advanced their lines further toward Bras and Vacherauxville, and made fresh gains in the Woivre.

It is said that all French troops have been driven from the Meuse peninsula.

BOULEVARD TO BE BUILT SOON AT GRANVILLE

County Commissioners Jos. H. Orr, Frank R. Dunn and Orville Kiger will view a road running east from Granville and also one running west from that village tomorrow which has been petitioned for owing to the fact that Main street will soon be closed to traffic, necessitated by the paving of that thoroughfare, which will be started just as soon as the weather permits. There will be a twelve foot park through the center of the street, which in the future will be designated as a boulevard, and for twenty feet on each side of that asphalt will be laid. The work on same will be started just as soon as the weather permits, the contract having been let last fall. After the county commissioners have view the proposed road a hearing on same will be held March 2 and 4, at the commissioners' office.

C. E. WEEK AT EAST MAIN ST. U. B. CHURCH

The week of February 21, was observed at the East Main Street U. B. church as Christian Endeavor week. Monday evening the seniors had their annual social and an outline of their work. Tuesday evening the juniors gave an interesting Washington program Wednesday the intermediates had charge and Thursday was decision day. On that evening many endeavors signified their desire to be more willing to let the Master lead them. Friday evening was the annual homecoming and get acquainted meeting. An interesting program of orchestra selections, recitations and solos was given at the close of which the chairman of the social committee invited the crowd to the basement where refreshments were served. The week closed on Sunday evening with a rousing sermon to the endeavors by Rev. Cox. Altogether the week proved a profitable one for the society.

F. A. Stevens Will Manage When Store

Mr. F. A. Stevens, who has been with the Meyer & Lindorf store the past three years, has resigned his position to accept the management of the new When store, which will open up very shortly in the Wehrle block in West Main street.

The new store will carry ready-to-wear apparel for men and women, and the opening announcement will soon be made. Mr. Stevens is well adapted for the responsibilities of his new position. He has made many friends during his residence in this city, who wish for him the best of success in his new work.

Sixth H. S. Number.
Colonel George W. Bain, the sixth number on the High School Lecture course, will be heard at the high school auditorium on March 1. His subject will be: "If I Had Life to Live Over."

It's when a man realizes that he has been taken in that he is apt to feel put out about it.

DENISON LOSES TO OBERLIN BEFORE MONSTER CROWD

Oberlin, Feb. 28.—Before one of Warner gymnasia's greatest crowds Oberlin defeated Denison, 27 to 25, Saturday night. Oberlin took the lead at the start and never was overtaken by the Red quintet for an instant. Kalthes and McPhee played the best game of their careers against their rivals and were the stars of the contest.

Denison could not penetrate the Oberlin team work at any time, and although twice the visitors got within three points of the lead, the game was actually decided after the first half had shown the class of the teams. Captain Thiele was the big star for Denison. Lineup:

Denison, 25: Oberlin 27.
Land, Shomey, 11; Kalthes, 14; Jenkins, 11; Kalthes, 14; Thiele, 11; Dunn, 11; Ladd, 11; E. Andrus, 11; Stankard, Meredith, 11.
Field goals—McPhee, 5; Kalthes, 5; Dunn, 11; Thiele, 11; Ladd, 11; Meredith, 11. Referee—Mr. Weggant. Umpire—Mr. Evans, Ohio Wesleyan. Time of halves—20 minutes.

NEXT WRESTLING MATCH WILL BE IN AUDITORIUM

Negotiations for the lease of the Auditorium for five nights, starting as many as five, have been pending for several days, were successful and announcement was made today that five high class wrestling matches would be staged there within the next six weeks. The first of these is a bout between Joe Turner, world's middle weight champion and Earl Bowser of this city, who wrestled two hours here a month ago, Turner getting one fall in 47 minutes.

Other wrestlers with nationwide reputations will follow Turner bringing to a climax the most successful season of this sport ever attempted in the city.

At a special meeting of the trustees of Memorial hall, held Saturday night, the trustees voted to allow the matches to be staged there. Arrangements had already been made with Manager Harry English, ending the favorable action of the trustees and immediately after the action was taken Bowser wired Turner asking him to accept March 7 as the date for the match here. Turner replied immediately accepting that date and stated that he would arrive here on the 6th. Since the game was revived here last fall, Bowser has sought to secure quarters where he could invite the women to witness the bouts which have furnished such high class entertainment to hundreds in the city. A special effort will be made to interest women in the coming series of matches, which will bring the best men in the wrestling game to the city.

Seating arrangements for the stage will accommodate about 200 fans and these seats will be placed on sale at the usual price. The regular seating in the house will be placed on sale at the box office three days before the match.

Further announcement of the seat sale will be made later.

ENGINEER STONER STRUCK BY ENGINE; SKULL FRACTURED

William F. Stoner, B. & O. yard engineer, is in a critical condition at the Newark sanitarium as a result of injuries suffered early Sunday morning when he was struck by a Pennsylvania passenger train at the B. & O. Pennsylvania crossing just south of the B. & O. passenger station. He suffered a fractured skull and has been unconscious since the accident. He lives at 36 Valley street.

Stoner was on his way to the yards to go to work when the accident occurred. He had started to the yards after leaving the station platform and was crossing the Pennsylvania tracks when struck by the engine of the passenger train. The Bradley ambulance rushed him to the Newark sanitarium, where he received attention of the company surgeons.

At noon today his condition was said to be unchanged.

AUTOMATIC BASEBALL.
But six points separate the leaders in the automatic baseball tournament from the team in third place. The three leading teams are: P. Russell and E. Russell, 155 points; Tony Roe and George Davis, 150 points; Danes and Callahan, 149.

Bargains in the Wants tonight.

The Brisk Smoke—"Bull" Durham

When you see an alert-looking young man in a lively argument roll a "Bull" Durham cigarette—it's the natural thing. He likes to punctuate a crisp sentence with a puff of "Bull". His mind responds to the freshness that's in the taste of "Bull". His senses are quickened by the unique aroma of "Bull". A cigarette of "Bull" Durham just fits in with keen thinking and forceful action.

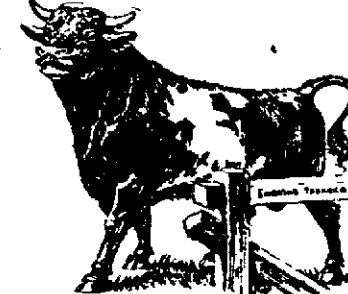

GENUINE "BULL" DURHAM SMOKING TOBACCO

You get more wholesome, lasting satisfaction out of "Bull" Durham than from any other tobacco ever rolled up into a cigarette.

Made of "bright" Virginia-North Carolina leaf, "Bull" Durham is rich, fragrant, mellow-sweet—the mildest, most enjoyable of smokes.

"Roll your own" with "Bull" and join the army of smokers who have found that so good a cigarette cannot be obtained in any other way.

FREE An Illustrated Booklet, showing correct way to "Roll Your Own" Cigarettes, and a package of cigarette papers, will both be mailed, free, to any address in U.S. on request. Address "Bull" Durham, Durham, N.C.

NEWARK BOWLERS IN SECOND PLACE IN CITY TOURNEY

H. Schenck and J. Kennedy, Newark bowlers, entered in the Columbus city bowling tournament were in second place in the two-men events this morning as a result of the bowling Sunday. Other two-men teams from Newark were entered. Saturday the Pastimes of this city rolled 2481, a score too low to put them within the first five teams in the tournament.

Scores made by Newark bowlers follow:

PASTIMES, NEWARK.
Five-Men Teams.
H. Schenck	136	187	114
J. Kennedy	149	177	171
H. Imhoff	142	124	141
T. Stechow	189	170	158
D. Hawkins	165	210	168
Totals	801	868	812

Two-Men Teams.
H. Schenck	180	208	226
J. Kennedy	208	201	183
Total	388	409	409
G. Lewis	161	202	177
H. Imhoff	182	177	166
Totals	343	379	393
F. Stechow	193	164	188
D. Hawkins	175	184	149
Totals	368	348	337

NATIONAL BICYCLE DAY-TOMORROW

The revival of bicycle riding for pleasure and as a sport is one of the marked tendencies of the times. In fact, so strong is cycling returning to popular favor with all classes that a national bicycle day will be observed on Tuesday, Feb. 29, when bicycle dealers in this city will join with thousands in other parts of the country to bring prominently before the public the many advantages the bicycle offers.

There is no question that hundreds of people might have overlooked the bicycle. It's about the only form of quick locomotion that involves health-building exercise without danger of overdoing it or becoming fatigued. In the old days when the bicycle was ridden for pleasure, physicians everywhere prescribed cycling for boys, girls, men and women, and their clients found not only benefit, but real sport in taking the "cyclo treatment." Whatever was true of the bike ride then, in this respect is even more true today, because the wheel has been greatly improved and is available to everybody because of the greatly reduced price.

Many a man who stands on his dignity merely succeeds in shutting off someone else's view.

MARIETTA WINS FROM GERMANS IN CLOSE GAME

Marietta, Feb. 28.—Marietta College defeated the Buffalo Germans here Saturday night, 26 to 25, in one of the most desperately contested basket ball games ever seen on the Marietta floor. The visitors outplayed Marietta in the latter stages, cutting down a big lead. The game is the last on the schedule for the New Yorkers.

SINCLAIR MAKES MONEY AS OWNER IN FED. LEAGUE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.)
Kansas City, Feb. 28.—"I've sold all my players except one, and I'm through with baseball," declared Harry Sinclair, former Federal league magnate, who here today on his way to Tulsa, Okla., "and the best part of it is," he continued, "that I have made money instead of losing the large sums I read of every day."

Sinclair declared the small amount he lost in Newark last year, was regained in the sale of the club's players. Hal Chase, former American league star, was named by Sinclair as the only player he has not disposed of.

Colorado has the highest automobile road.

GRAND OPENING

of the Newark Auto Supply Co.

WALTER D. TRACEY

WALTER D. BELL

34 West Church Street

Tuesday Evening, February 29

Seven To Nine O'Clock

This is National Bicycle Day and we will celebrate both events by an immense showing of the latest 1916

Bicycles and Auto Supplies

You are cordially invited to come and inspect the new things—The ladies are specially invited.

GOOD MUSIC

FLOWERS FOR THE LADIES

News in Brief

MASONIC TEMPLE
 Newark Lodge F. & A. M., No. 97.
 Friday, March 3, 7:00 p. m. Regular.
 Lodge F. & A. M., No. 554.
 Thursday, March 2, 7 p. m. Work in F. C. degree.
 Thursday, March 3, 7 p. m. Regular.
 Warren Chapter, R. A. M., No. 6.
 Monday, Feb. 23, 7:00 p. m. Installation. R. A. degree.
 St. Luke's Commandery K. T., No. 34.
 Tuesday, Feb. 23, 7:00 p. m. Regular. Order of the Temple. Full ballroom.
 Elks Club Council, R. & S. M., No. 7.
 Wednesday, March 1, 7:00 p. m. Regular.
 Monday, March 2, 7:00 p. m. Work in Super. Excellent. Every member of team be present.
 Loyal Order of Moose.
 Licking Lodge, No. 489, will meet first and third Wednesday's at 7:30 o'clock.

GRAND

TONIGHT—Pathe presents the wonderful spectacular drama, "NEW YORK," in five acts, featuring Florence Reed. 28-1t

Notice.
 There will be a meeting of the Builders' Exchange on the second floor of Trust building, Tuesday evening, Feb. 23, at 8 o'clock. All members and all who have signed to become members are requested to be present. 28-2t

KOZY THEATRE

N. CRITICOS, Manager.
 Monday
 JACK PICKFORD
 IN
WHY LOVE IS BLIND
 A heart stirring feature drama of circus life in three parts.

Tuesday
 "A Duel in the Desert" by E. W. Hornung, author of "Raffles" in 3 parts—2 special reels.
 ADMISSION 5c.

ALHAMBRA

Tonight and Tomorrow
 Annette Kellermann
 THE PERFECT WOMAN, IN
Neptunes Daughter
 THE FILM MASTERPIECE OF THE WORLD—IN 7 PARTS
 SHOWS STARTING AT 1:30, 3:15, 5:00, 6:45, 8:30, 9:30.
 NO ADVANCE IN PRICE.

Wednesday & Thursday
 V. L. S. E. CORP. — Presents
ANITA STEWART and EARL WILLIAMS

My Lady's Slipper
 PRODUCED BY RALPH INGE

Always a good show at the Mazda
 Under new management.

TODAY
DON'T MISS
 "The Monster and the Girl"

See the thrilling and sensational burning of the ship at sea.

TUESDAY
 "The Little Girl That He Forgot"

COMING
 FRIDAY, MARCH 3
 Annette Kellerman
 "Neptune's Daughter"
 ADMISSION 5c

Auditorium--Today

Marie Dora in The Wood Nymph
 Harry Gibbon & Keystone Players in THE PERILS OF THE PARK

AUDITORIUM MATINEE ONLY SAT. MAR. 4.

HARRY LAUDER
 With the Greatest Company of International Artists Ever Assembled
SEATS NOW ON SALE

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

CLEANSSE THE LITTLE LIVER AND BOWELS AND THEY GET WELL QUICK.

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. If your child coughs, snuffles and has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs" to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given. Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

"NEW YORK," AT THE GRAND. 28-1t

"A Reminder," Sachs Dry Cleaning. Phone 5135. 2-28d2t

SPECIAL
 20c can Berris, 2 for 25c
 12c can Lima Beans 7 1/2c
 Van Camp Hominy per can 7 1/2c
 Van Camp Pumpkin 7 1/2c
 10c can Peas 7 1/2c
 10c can Corn 7 1/2c
HUGH ELLIS,
 25-28-29, 24 W. Church St.

Ice Cream and Parcels Post.

Social given by young ladies of Blessed Sacrament Church Tuesday evening, Feb. 23. Amusements for young and old. Eats to suit all. Everybody welcome. 26-2t

"NEW YORK," AT THE GRAND. 28-1t

For Sale Business.
 The Murphy Transfer Co., business, horses, buggies and moving vans. Inquire 54 South Third street. 2-19-4d

TURKEY DINNER at the SECOND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
 Thursday evening, 5 to 8 o'clock; 35 cents. 28-3t

Carpenters Notice.
 Brother—This is to notify you that a special meeting of Local Union No. 136 C. & J. of A. will be called immediately after adjournment of next regular session to be held Monday evening February 23. Said special called for the purpose of taking a vote ordered by the General Executive Board. Refreshments will be served. By order of Local. Howard Wilson, Rec. Secy. 2-25-43t

DRINK CARMELO TEA, 75 cups of India and Ceylon tea for 10 cents. THE CONRAD GROCERY CO. 12-21-4t

"NEW YORK," AT THE GRAND. 28-1t

(Political Advertisement.)
GEO. GARLINGHOUSE
 Monroe Township
 desires to announce that he will be a candidate for COUNTY COMMISSIONER on the Democratic ticket at the coming primary election. 2-28-1t

Euchre Party, Red Men Hall, March 1, 8 to 10:30. Everybody come. 28-2t

PANTS AND OVERCOAT SALE.
 Special this week. Orders taken. Men's all wool trousers $3.25. Dressy looking Raincoats $3.75 up. Suits to order $12.50 to $18. Wm. Rupert over Smith's drug store. 28-2t

Don't forget the Hoover and Holmes sale Wednesday, March 3, 3 1/2 miles Northwest of Newark on Goose Pond road. Walnut Grove farm. 2-29-43-2

TURKEY DINNER at the SECOND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
 Thursday evening, 5 to 8 o'clock; 35 cents. 28-3t

Called Away by Mother's Death.
 Mrs. Mary Fitzsimmons of Eleventh street, was called to Fairfield, Ia., today by the death of her mother, Mrs. Mary O'Connor, who was the oldest resident of that city. Resigns Position.
 Mr. F. A. Stevens, for several years floor manager of the Meyer &

Lindorf store, has resigned his position to become effective today. Mr. Stevens resigns to accept the management of the new When store, which will be located in the Wehrle building in West Main street, and which will probably open this week. Engages in Business.
 Mr. William Rupert, for a number of years employed in the linen department of the Meyer & Lindorf store, has resigned his position and has engaged in the men's clothing business in South Park Place.

Is Critically Ill.
 Antoine Miller is lying critically ill at his home in Buckingham street. He has been in a critical condition for the past week.

Brings Mother Home.
 Mrs. Richard Kear of Granville street, is in Columbus today and will accompany her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth McKenna of South Third street, to her home. Mrs. McKenna recently underwent an operation on her eye at the Mt. Carmel hospital.

Celebrated 87th Anniversary.
 Mrs. Sarah Dusenbury celebrated her 87th birthday anniversary at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Columbus Fletcher in North Pine street, on Sunday. A family dinner was served, and three children of the family, Mrs. Fletcher, Messrs. W. J. and J. W. Dusenbury, of Columbus, were present.

Condition Improving.
 Mr. Joseph Bader, who was injured in a fall down the cellar steps at his home, is improving slowly at his home in North Sixth street.

The Evelyn Graham W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church.

Weeks' Revival.
 There will be revival services every night this week at the Pine Street C. U. church, conducted by H. J. Duckworth, pastor, beginning at 7:15. Preaching at 7:30.

Mystery Story Starts.
 The first episode in the great moving-picture mystery story, "The Strange Case of Mary Page," may be read in today's Advocate. Don't miss the opening chapters. See the Essanay pictures illustrating this great story at the Grand next Thursday.

Public Sale, March 2.
 J. W. Hawk will offer at public sale at his farm a mile north of Mt. Vernon, on Thursday, March 2, 21 horses, 34 cattle, farm implements, etc. See advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

Newark Man's Patent.
 In the announcement of patents granted by the patent office the records show an issue to A. J. Sanford, assignor, to A. H. Heisey & company of this city of a patent for a design for displayrack for shoes, design for dish and design for vase.

Birth Announcement.
 Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stiegle, 68 Oakwood, announce the birth of a daughter, February 27. She has been named Margaret Elizabeth.

Visiting Marietta.
 Theodore McKenna, Guy Ragan and George Barker left today for New Orleans to attend the Mardi Gras. They expect to be gone about two weeks and on their return home will stop at Chattanooga and visit the battlefields and also make a trip up Lookout Mountain.

Birth Announcement.
 Mr. and Mrs. Richard Owens of the Sharon Valley Road announce the birth of an eight pound girl.

Buckeye Band Dance.
 The members of the Buckeye band will give a dance Wednesday evening in K of P hall in East Main street the proceeds to be used in defraying expenses incurred by Newark's crack musical organization. Fifteen musicians will compose the orchestra, all union, the ladies will be admitted free, Gentlemen will be charged an admission of fifty cents. The dance no doubt will be well patronized.

Geese Fly North.
 Warm weather cannot be very far away for wild geese have begun seeking northern climes. Last night about nine o'clock a large flock flew over the northern end of the city in a northerly direction and their honk, honk, was heard by a number of people.

Return to Western Home.
 Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Weston and two children, who have been the guests of Mrs. Weston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Irwin in Hudson avenue, have returned to their home in Winthrop, Wash., after a couple of months visit in this city.

Leaves On Trip.
 Edward O'Brien a traveling salesman for the J. F. Cherry company, who has been ill at his home in Hudson avenue was sufficiently recovered so that he was able to resume his position today, leaving on an eastern trip.

Division Prayer Meeting.
 Division 12 will hold its regular prayer meeting, Tuesday evening, February 23, 1914 at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Shore, 62 Leonard avenue. Everybody welcome.

Drunks Are Fined.
 Three plain drunks arraigned before Mayor Bigbee this morning drew fines of $5 and costs. A case in which a foreigner was arrested following trouble in his home Saturday night, was continued until Tuesday morning.

PLEAD GUILTY TO MURDER OF A RICH WIDOW

(Associated Press Telegram)
 Pittsburgh, Feb. 23.—William McClure and Joseph White pleaded guilty in court this morning to the murder of Mrs. Caroline Viehmer, a wealthy widow whose body was found in her room in McCandless township last December. Her son-in-law, Aaron Fell, whom McClure and White declare paid them $50, to attack Mrs. Viehmer in order that he might secure possession of a note for $4,000 she held against him was on trial charged with complicity in the crime.

The area of Italy is 110,000 square miles, while the area of California is 158,000 square miles.

CARROLL'S
 SPECIAL EXHIBITION AND DISPLAY OF
McCallum Silk Hosiery
 For a Few Days Beginning Tomorrow
 Mrs. Gray a Representative of the McCallum Hosiery Makers.....
 Will be in our hosiery department to give you every possible fact regarding the superior merits of this well known brand and showing all the latest novelties for spring wear, including a full line of shades to match any gown. See window display tonight, and don't forget to come here tomorrow.
The New Victor Records For March
 Are on sale today also.
MANY SMART NEW COATS AND SUITS.
JOHN J. CARROLL

THE DEITENBECK HOUSEHOLD NOW MUCH HAPPIER

Since Nerv-Worth "Made Over" Little 7-Year-Old Girl.

Parents with nervous, over wrought children will be deeply interested in the following statement, signed by Mrs. John Deitenbeck, of 1270 Marietta street, Zanesville: "Nerv-Worth Co.—We read your advertisement in the paper and determined to try your Nerv-Worth for our little girl, who is 7 years old. She was afflicted with bed-wetting and nervousness." She was so bad she could not talk good. We gave her one and a half bottles (of Nerv-Worth) and she improved wonderfully. She can talk good now and she has filled out and gained in flesh. We are all taking it now as it has proved a wonderful help to all the family. (Signed) "Mrs. John Deitenbeck."

This is striking proof of the Nerv-Worth claim that Nerv-Worth is the family medicine par excellence. This nerve tonic is the world's best for men, women and children. Ought to be in every medicine chest. Your dollar back at the T. J. Evans Drug Store if the Nerv-Worth user is not helped by the tonic. 2-28-3-1

FURY

(Continued from Page 1.)
 The Peninsular and Oriental steamer Maloja, by striking a mine off Dover, may reach 151 dispatches today reporting that only 260 of the 411 passengers and crew on board are known to have been saved.

Of the 119 passengers, 55 have definitely accounted for.

A London despatches indicates a belief in the British capital that the Maloja and several other vessels just sunk in or near British waters, were victims of German mines now recently.

The German offensive on the west front is assuming even wider scope and importance. Not only is the impetuous drive on Verdun being pressed vigorously, although with less rapid progress by the crown prince's armies but aggressive action on a large scale has developed in the Champagne district where the Germans, according to Berlin, have stormed and captured nearly a mile of French trenches.

The new movement in the Champagne is on a much nearer Paris than the scene of the operations against Verdun, the former front being approximately 100 miles from Paris, while the Verdun fighting area is roughly 140 miles distant from the French capital.

North of Verdun the German lines have been extended somewhat to the west, the loop of the Meuse around Champagneville, having been cleared of the French, the Berlin statement declares, while there has been a slight advance southward in the neighborhood of Vacherville and Bras near the river.

The French, however, have stopped the German drive in the fortified Douaumont sector. Apparently the Germans still hold the fort itself but their furious attacks on the village of Douaumont nearby were failures, according to the French war office. The German official account of the fighting in this region declares that the French are exhausting themselves in fruitless attacks.

Apparently there have been German gains of some importance along the eastern line of the Verdun salient leading to St. Mihiel, where the Teutons, pushing westward, are pounding the defenses of Montmédy, ten miles southeast of Verdun. They have not been able to advance beyond this point, however, but have reached the foot of the French position at Cote Lorraine at several points, Berlin announced.

In their Champagne offensive the German announce the taking of the Navarin farm on the Souain-Somme-Py road, and positions on both sides, totalling 1600 metres. In making this gain they took more than 1000 prisoners and nine machine guns. The Paris version of this operation records it as a German surprise attack which resulted in the occupation of certain advanced trenches and a supporting trench.

WHEN PEOPLE

Think of Money They Think of The Buckeye State Building and Loan Company.

1. This is true of Columbus.
2. And becoming more so each year of the people of Central Ohio.
3. Farmers in Central Ohio
4. Now realize that the Buckeye is the best place to borrow.
5. And also a very safe place to deposit their money.
6. And get five per cent interest.
7. Assets over $10,000,000, all secured by first mortgages on homes and farms.
8. Rankin Building, 22 West Gay Street, Columbus, Ohio.

COLUMBUS DISPATCH CONTEST ANSWERS

The Lowe Lists, in three sections, pamphlet form, compiled by prize winners. First forty pictures now ready, second list after 70th picture, and list of preferred five for each picture two weeks before close of contest. Price for all $1.00. Address THE LOWE LISTS, Circleville, Ohio. 2-28-2t

FLOOD CONDITIONS IN LOUISIANA NOW REPORTED IMPROVED

(Associated Press Telegram)
 New Orleans, Feb. 23.—Although flood conditions in general were regarded as improved in northern Louisiana, relief workers in the remoter areas today expected increased difficulties owing to weather conditions. Rain and sleet continued today and suffering was reported intense in some localities particularly among the refugees camping on the levees. Seepage water today was reported to be causing considerable trouble at Vidalia, La., opposite Natchez. A special levee for protection against backwater has been built and is holding against the rising water.

Many negroes from Deer Park section have arrived in Natchez. Early reports from Vicksburg were that the Mississippi river committee after a conference Sunday regarding flood conditions with the board of trade left for further inspection of the river.

The trip of the commission will end here.

SUPER-DREADNOUGHT CONTINUES HER TESTS

(Associated Press Telegram)
 Rockland, Maine, Feb. 23.—The super-dreadnought Pennsylvania, detained at this port last night by rough weather, left today for a continuation of her official acceptance trials. The first was to be a 12-hour run at 19-knot speed, followed by a 12 hour full power run during which the ship must average 21-knots to meet contract requirements.

AN ELDERLY LADY NOW MUCH BENEFITED

TANLAC THE AGENCY THROUGH WHICH SHE FOUND SPEEDY AND GRATIFYING RELIEF.

"I Was in a General Run-down Condition, Slept Poorly, Eyes Effect-Ed, But Am Much Improved."

Mrs. Sarah A. Wolcott who resides at 96 Ash street and who is 75 years of age is an enthusiastic believer in and advocate of the Master Medicine, Tanlac.

Mrs. Wolcott has taken two bottles of Tanlac and of it says: "I was in a general run down condition, slept poorly and could not sleep on my back at all but now I sleep comfortably in any position. The pains in my chest and sides have completely disappeared, catarrh in my head has vanished and my eyes, which were giving me a great deal of trouble have greatly improved and I see better than I have for years, my appetite has been wonderfully improved and on the whole I feel like a different woman and I gladly recommend Tanlac." Tanlac is demonstrated at Halls Drug Store and is for sale at Pataskani by J. R. Strine, at Granville by W. P. Ullman at Hebron by the Hebron Drug Co. and at Utica by P. H. Richardson. 2-28-2t

IF I OWNED NEWARK, O.

I would adopt the business or commission form of government. I would clean up the streets and keep them clean. For the sake of common decency I would see that new sidewalks were put down where needed, and old ones repaired. I would encourage and assist our public library. I would show my appreciation of the man who has brought our public schools to such a high point of efficiency. I would not regard as improved in northern Louisiana, relief workers in the remoter areas today expected increased difficulties owing to weather conditions. Rain and sleet continued today and suffering was reported intense in some localities particularly among the refugees camping on the levees. Seepage water today was reported to be causing considerable trouble at Vidalia, La., opposite Natchez. A special levee for protection against backwater has been built and is holding against the rising water.

Many negroes from Deer Park section have arrived in Natchez. Early reports from Vicksburg were that the Mississippi river committee after a conference Sunday regarding flood conditions with the board of trade left for further inspection of the river.

The trip of the commission will end here.

SUPER-DREADNOUGHT CONTINUES HER TESTS

(Associated Press Telegram)
 Rockland, Maine, Feb. 23.—The super-dreadnought Pennsylvania, detained at this port last night by rough weather, left today for a continuation of her official acceptance trials. The first was to be a 12-hour run at 19-knot speed, followed by a 12 hour full power run during which the ship must average 21-knots to meet contract requirements.

Life without pursuit is a vague and languid thing.—Bacon.

Last year the total output of the 5,521 central electric stations in this country was 14,000,000,000 kilowatt hours.

The A. L. Norton Co., Booksellers and Stationers, 26 Arcade, 29 West Church street, Newark.

Information Wanted.
 Most of the stock phrases of everyday life are intelligible to us, and we know a lot, but we wish somebody would tell us what a little is.—Columbia State.

As a rule a girl only begins to dream of a career after her other dreams have failed to pan out.

STEPHAN BOSTONIANS
 17 South Side Square
CHICHESTER'S PILLS

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and thickness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

As a rule a girl only begins to dream of a career after her other dreams have failed to pan out.

STEPHAN BOSTONIANS
 17 South Side Square
CHICHESTER'S PILLS

Life without pursuit is a vague and languid thing.—Bacon.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®